New Year Greetings.

The Building and Engineering News takes this opportunity to thank its many subscribers and advertisers for their staunch support during the past year, and to wish that every day of the New Year will be one of profit and happiness to each of its readers.

With the coming of the New Year the Building and Engineering News enters upon its 17th year of continuous publication, and it is truly gratifying to note the hundreds of steady patrons who have been loyal to the Building and Engineering News year in and year out. So in the future, the Building and Engineering News will keep in the van guard of progress—always up-to-date and reliable. As California grows and expands, so will the Building and Engineering News grow and anticipate every changing condition, always giving its readers the best of service.

The building totals for San Francisco the past years may well be considered at this time:

1903	14,984,514

1916	19,984,288

In addition to the above we publish the figures compiled by Chief Inspector of Buildings John P. Horgan of the Board of Public Works. These figures, which are only an estimate, are based on the number of building permits issued.

Indications for a prosperous year are visible on all sides. Work in prospect throughout California, of which we have accurate knowledge, will reach a hundred million dollars.

For San Francisco and the Bay region the sum total will exceed any previous years, excepting perhaps the time following the great fire and the year preceeding the Exposition.

In a later issue a detailed synopsis of work in prospect will be given our readers, which will be a happy surprise to many and prove our statement that 1917 will be a busy year.

INCREASING USE OF ALUMINUM IN MANUFACTURE OF AUTOMOBILES.

Metallic aluminum now competes strongly with other sheet metals and with wood in the manufacture of automobile bodies, according to reports by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. This position in the market has been attained through improvement in foundry methods for casting metallic aluminum and increase in knowledge of suitable alloys. Large sections of aluminum castings are now used in making touring cars and the inclosed bodies of certain other motor cars, a use which was not practicable ten years ago. Cast aluminum is also used for making automobile dashes. Bodies made of it are lighter than those made of other sheet metal and have a rigid surface that will not dent easily when handled. They are also safer in case of accident. The aluminum surface retains paint well, and the increased rigidity makes the car more durable.

1,500 MILES OF RAILS TO BE SENT TO FRANCE.

OTTAWA, Canada —Approximately 1500 miles of Canadian railroads will be torn up and transported to France during the next three months.

A meeting of the railroad officials of the country was held there recently to ascertain what mileage could be spared for that purpose. The rails will be used in the construction of new lines to move army supplies from the French ports to the battle line.

PRINCE RUPERT DRY DOCK IN OPERATION.

The dry dock at Prince Rupert, Canada, part of the equipment of the Grand Trunk Pacific system, and completed under the supervision of American engineers at a cost of $2,500,000, has been in use for the past six weeks. The first big ship to test the capacity of the dry dock was the 16,000-ton transport Orbita, built for the Pacific Steam Navigation Co. The second ship to use the dry dock was the Otranto, formerly of the Orient Line.

Are Two Wheels of Your Truck Loafing?

If the front wheels of your truck are merely carrying part of the load, they're loafing.

They should be pulling. Because when the rear wheels do all the work they wear out tires faster than they should. They strain the truck and shorten its life. They consume too much gasoline and oil. They don't start and stop quickly.

That's why in keenest competition in the European war zone, and with our U. S. troops in Mexico, and again among the big trucking fleets of our largest corporations—THE CLINTONVILLE.

F W D

is showing big savings from regularity and dependability of service; from untiring endurance that other trucks can't have—because they're not FOUR WHEEL DRIVE.

On the F-W-D Truck every wheel is a Driving Wheel. The strains and stresses are divided and distributed. Road blows and resistance can't hit hard at any one point. So the F-W-D lasts years longer. The F-W-D eliminates minor and major breakdowns that lose time and minimize your profits. The F-W-D keeps ON the road and OUT of the repair shop.

The F-W-D saves 20 to 25 per cent of gasoline and oil money. It reduces first cost of tires one-third. It doubles tire mileage. It starts quickly—stops quickly. Breaks on four wheels as well as drives on four wheels. It saves time and avoids accidents. Phone for demonstrations.

SUBSIDENCE RESULTING FROM MINING.

Urbana, Illinois.

As a result of underground excavation which is made in the process of mining, the earth's surface frequently subsided to an extent which interferes with the stability of buildings, railroads, and other facilities which may exist on the surface. Where subsidence is occuring or in the immediate future is likely to occur, building projects on the surface must take account of these facts.

The comparative newness of most of our mines is probably responsible for the fact that the subject only recently has attracted wide-spread attention.

The subject is one which has recently been studied by the Engineering Experiment Station of the University of Illinois in co-operation with the State Geological Survey and the United States Bureau of mines.

The investigators, Professor L. E. Young and Professor H. H. Stoek, have summarized existing facts as presented by the literature on the subject, have conducted an extensive correspondence with mine operators and mine workers throughout the coal mining districts of the United States, and have studied local conditions as they now exist in the mining districts of western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, and Illinois.

The results of these investigations are presented in Bulletin No. 91 of the Engineering Experiment Station, a book of 200 pages, well illustrated.

Copies may be obtained gratis upon request from W. F. M. Goss, Director, Urbana, Illinois.

TULARE PLANS MORE ROADS.

VISALIA, Cal.—B. O. Lovelace, Tuare county surveyor, has filed with the board of supervisors his detailed report on the county road situation in Tulare county, with a recommendation that funds for the construction of more than 1000 miles of permanent highways be secured through a direct tax to be voted at the rate of $400,000 per year. Lovelacce, pointing out that the saving in interest charges would more than take care of the upkeep charges on new roads built, declares that a small advance over the present tax rate would build the necessary trunk lines in [illegible] years. In ten years, more, he [illegible] at the rate of $40,000 per year, [illegible] could be com-[illegible]

U. S. ENGINEER AT BERKELEY.

BERKELEY, Cal.—Entrusted with the mission of spending on road improvements in California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico the enormous sum of $5,440,701, Charles H. Sweetzer, district engineer of the United States office of public roads, has arrived in Berkeley and opened his district headquarters in the Federal Building here. His assigned task is the administration of the funds allotted these states under the federal aid road act of July 11, this year.

With the work of four portions of roadway along the route of the State Highway commenced, the government's assistance in Califoania has already begun to be a reality.. These portions are as follows: Contra Costa county, Albany to Richmond; San Mateo county, Beresford to Redwood City; Ventura county, Springville to the Santa Clara river, and Placer county, Roseville to Penniman.

The federal aid road act is being administered from Washington by Secretary of Agriculture David F. Houston. His department has appointed a number of district engineers assigned to different portions of the country. Sweetzer having the four southwestern [illegible]s.

The appropriation made by the act is of $85,000,000. Of this amount $75,000,000 is to be devoted to post roads and $10,000,000 to national forest roads. In the fiscal year ending June, 1917, $5,000,000 of the total will be expended; $10,000,000 in the next fiscal year, $15,000,000 in the third and so on until the total has been exhausted in five years. It is provided that the amount the government spends shall not more than equal that spent by the individual state for the same purpose, so that the total will ultimately represent an improvement of highways throughout the country to the extent of $170,000,000.

The apportionment for the four states in Sweetzer's district for the present fiscal year is as follows: Cali[illegible], $151,093; Nevada, $68,513; Arizona, $68,513; New Mexico, $78,737. For the total period over which the appro[illegible] four states will reap federal benefits [illegible] California, $2,[illegible]; Nevada, $965,974; Arizona, $1,027,702; New Mexico, $1,181,067. The total for the fiscal year in the four states is $862,711 [illegible] period, $5,440,701.

land, president of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, is the chairman of this committee. All available data is being collected with a view to its presentation to the delegates assembled in Washington.

Several suggested amendments to the by-laws of the National Chamber will be voted upon at the Annual Meeting. One would create a new class of membership—Associate Members, and another an endowment fund with the possible view of building a home for the National Chamber in the future.

National Council to Meet.

As is usual, the National Council will meet on the afternoon preceding the first day of the Annual Meeting. It will assemble Tuesday, January 30. All sessions of the National Chamber meeting will be held at the New Willard Hotel.

HEALTH NEWS.

Consider the automobile. When the car is going to stand still for more than a few minutes the driver stops the engine. By doing this he saves gasoline, oil, and above all, useless wear and tear on the machinery. If he lets the engine "run idle" he has wasted a lot of valuable material, shortened the life of his engine and in the meantime the automobile hasn't budged an inch.

The birds build nests for the protection of their young against the weather; the foxes dig holes for security against foes; the squirrels lay by stores of nuts against the coming of winter; and dogs bury bones against the day when bones will be scarce. These are the manifestations of a normal protective instinct arising from an experience of many, many generations. So far as is known through, no bird ever tried to build more nests than his neighbor; no fox ever fretted because he only had one hole in which to hide; no squirrel ever died of anxiety lest he should not lay by enough nuts for two winters instead of for one; and no dog ever lost any sleep over the fact that he didn't have enough bones laid aside to provide for his declining years.

This protective instinct is also present in the human mind and when properly directed is a great source of prosperity both to the individual and the nation. In order for man to store up and lay by, to gain advancement either in honor or material things, it is necessary that he take some forethought of the morrow, but just so soon as he carries this beyond the normal point the mental process becomes an exaggerated and abnormal one. The normal protective instinct is stimulated by a normal fear of those events which are reasonably sure to happen in the future unless means are adopted against them. The moment that this fear becomes abnormal or exaggerated it over stimulates this protective instinct and to no good purpose because it results in worry. This worry continues long after the necessity for the normal stimulates of fear has passed, with the result that there is an impairment in mental power and a dissipation of the nervous forces. In other words, the mental engine has been "running idle" and at the same time delivering no propulsive power. In fact, worry is an abnormal state.

Not all worry is preventable but for the most part it can be avoided. Most of our fears are never realized, and as a rule, if we meet our troubles day by day as they come without worrying about them before they arrive or fretting over them after they have passed, we will find that we have the strength to rise above them. Worry undermines the health to a certain extent. It really weakens the mental forces by tiring them out by doing nothing. Usually the relief from worry rests with the victim of this unhappy habit himself, but sometimes the real causes are not the ones which seem to explain the condition and we must go deep into our lives or have the assistance of those who are skilled in unraveling mental processes.

The best antidote for worry is a change of mental occupation, a getting away from the scenes which provoke worry, exercise in the open air, a good book, a pleasant recreation, or a temporary change of occupation. As a matter of mental health every sufferer from this unfortunate condition owes it to himself to discover some simple means of getting away from this habit which is destructive to health and peace of mind alike.

AN ANCIENT LIGHT.

It is something of a distinction to possess the oldest established seacoast light in America, and Boston, Mass., and the Federal Government did well recently to celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of the ancient beacon at the entrance to this harbor. Boston Light is famous the world over. For two centuries it has welcomed the mariner bound in and bid godspeed to those who were leaving these shores behind. It has stood for safety, confidence, happiness, much as the city above it has stood for like qualities in its civic life. Steadfast upon its rock, the present structure has rested for 140 years, exactly the age of the American Republic. May the double omen continue to be propitious.—Boston Post.

CONSTRUCTION WORK ABROAD

COSTA RICA.

Construction of Central American Court of Justice Building.

SAN JOSE, Dec. 2.—According to the local press, work will begin within a few days on the new building for the Central American Court of Justice at San Jose, donated by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. This is to take the place of the palace at Cartago destroyed by the earthquake in 1910.

The Costa Rican Government has furnished the land for the building and will have supervision over the construction work. The contract for the complete structure has been let to Mr. Wenceslas de la Guardia, 202 Riverside Drive, New York City, N. Y. The local representative of the contractor is Mr. Roberto Smythe, San Jose. It is understood that the equipment of the English Construction Co., now in use in building the Government post and telegraph office at San Jose, will be utilized in building this new palace.

ECUADOR.

Interurban Electric Line for Quito.

GUAYAQUIL, Nov. 17.—The Ecuadorian Congress has authorized the municipality of Quito to grant an exclusive concession for a period of 30 years to any person or company who will construct an electric railway line from the capital to any town or towns of the canton. The concessionaire must agree to complete the construction of the railway within two years and must pay to the municipality of Quito not less than 5 per cent of the gross receipts for the first five years, with an increase of 2 per cent for each following 5-year period. On the expiration of the contract the railway, with all rolling stock shall become the property of the municipality. The railway shall be exempt from all taxation and the municipality shall request the free entry of all materials required in the construction of the railway. Native bidders for the contract shall be given preference over foreign bidders where conditions are equal

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

Construction of Port Works.

MANILA, Nov. 1.—Port works at Tacloban, Leyte, involving the expenditure of $50,000, are expected to be completed by January, 1917. Further improvements of this port are contemplated and the matter of additional funds will be taken up during the present session of the Philippine Congresss. The additional work will include an extension of the wharf. This will include a modern bulkhead with an extensive filled-in area for warehouse. The province of Leyte is tc furnish $50,000 for the work. The province is also arranging to provide funds for a new provincial building at Tacloban to cost about $100,000.

The city of Cebu is also engaged in extensive wharf construction. The project has been but recently authorized and the orders are about to be placed for materials. It is expected that the projected work will practically double the wharf area of Cebu and reclaim a large area of lowland for warehouse purposes.

Tagbilaran, Bohol, is planning the construction of a new wharf and the deepening of the channel of the port. The construction of a road leading to the site of the proposed new wharf has been begun.

Work has been suspended on the jetty at Calbayog, Samar, until the end of the present monsoon season.

Practically all the concrete work has been completed on the new customs house at Iloilo. It is expected that the roof will be finished before the first of the year. This work has been retarded by the failure of hardware to arrive from the United States.

NEW ZEALAND.

Harbor Reclamation Scheme at Auckland.

AUCKLAND, Nov. 6.—The Auckland Harbor Board has arranged to reclaim about 8 acres of land on the shores of the Waitemata Harbor near this city at a total cost of about $194,660. In doing this it will remove some annoying bluffs adjoining the shore and open up some valuable building property.

This reclaimed land is to be held by the Auckland Harbor Board and leased to the public as has been done in the past. Extending beyond this it is intended to reclaim additional land from the harbor. It is proposed to begin work on this improvement immediately and push it to an early completion.

Public School Buildings in New Zealand

The matter of suitable and convenient school buildings is being given much attention by the education department of the New Zealand Government, and there seems to be an inclination to adopt a uniform style of buildings for the larger towns and city schools to accommodate from 300 to 400 pupils. It is suggested that these might be erected of reinforced concrete after models so as to materially decrease the cost.

It is also proposed to erect standardized portable school houses for growing suburbs and country schools, with the idea of changing the location as the population changes or increases. It is claimed that by this means fairly up-to-date accommodation can be furnished for pupils in all parts of the country at a comparatively reasonable cost.

Railroad Construction in North Island.

There is a strong move on foot in the North Island of New Zealand in favor of the construction of additional railroads so as to open up much valuable and fertile country that now is quite inaccessible.

This country is located in the north and northeastern part of the North Island and is only reached by steamer. The railroad mileage in the North Island on March 31, 1916, was 1,240 miles, whereas the South Island has 1,714 miles. Farming and industrial interests of the North Island feel that this part of the country would warrant a greater investment in the railroads in order to properly develop the country, so as to open up suitable areas on which to locate returned soldiers and the immigrants who are expected from allied countries at the close of the war.

It is probable that there will be definite opportunities at the close of the European war for supplying railway material, that has come in the past so largely from European manufacturers.

TO CONSIDER WAR-TIME COMMERCIAL CONDITIONS.

Business Men Will Assemble at the Capital Next Month at a Gathering of the National Chamber to Devise Further Means of Meeting Perplexing Problems Caused by the War's Duration and the Approach of an Inevitable Peace.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Following an urgent call to participate in a discussion of pressing national questions now facing American business, representatives of commercial organizations all over the country have signified their intention of being present in larger numbers than probably ever before, at the Fifth Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to be held in Washington, January 31, February 1 and 2.

The war having opened a new era in world commerce, business men are now facing conditions without precedent which will have to be met at its close. It is argued this state of affairs will, of course, affect our foreign trade and it will also have far-reaching influence upon domestic business.

Railroad Situation and National Defense on Program.

Accordingly, the railroad situation, national defense, and many other questions of paramount importance are included in the subjects to be discussed at the meeting. It is because these issues are so urgent and of such vital importance to our future development that the unusually large representation promises to be in attendance. Business men to the number of from one thousand to fifteen hundred, selected as delegates and alternates by the commercial bodies affiliated with the National Chamber will be present.

In dealing with the preparation for conditions after the war, prominent speakers will discuss separate phases, such as business, finance, transportation, and education for foreign trade. Of particular interest will be that part of the discussion devoted to the railroad situation.

Important Referendum Vote Will Be Announced.

At the time of the Annual Meeting the result of a National Chamber referendum upon which the commercial bodies of the country are now voting will be announced for the first time. It has to do with disputes between railroads and their employees, particularly the prevention of strikes and lockouts. The canvass will show exactly how the business men of the country stand on this subject.

Having already endorsed a comprehensive plan for national defense, a special session will be set aside for this subject. Thursday morning, February 1. It is expected there will be three speakers and then the report of the National Chamber Committee on National Defense, through its chairman, Bascom Little, formerly president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. The National Chamber strongly advocates universal military training, upon which discussion is expected to center.

Daylight Saving from a National Standpoint.

Among the numerous committee reports to be presented, more than passing attention will be attracted by that on daylight saving. Robert Gar-

BOOSTER EDITION.

Comprehensive Outline Of Construction To Be Undertaken During The Year By Public And Private Interests Throughout The State As Compiled By The Building & Engineering News.

(Additional Advance News Will be Found Under the Usual Headings in This Issue.)

In this, The Booster Edition of Building & Engineering News, there is represented a total of $50,766,750 which will be expended for construction by public and private interests in the State of Califronia during the present year. With the exception of the amounts to be expended by the State Highway Commission and by the State Engineering Department in Southern California this section of the State has not been included. Another important source, the Southern Pacific Co. and Santa Fe System, the totals of which will also represent several millions, has had to be omitted as has other public service corporations which refuse to furnish estimates of prospective construction. The majority of the counties and cities in the State has not been included, as accurate estimates could not be secured at this time of the year.

San Francisco construction makes up the largest part of the work listed under private construction and while many architects have aided us, others have felt it against their best interests to disclose the nature or amount of prospective work in their offices. Private construction in the smaller cities and towns throughout the state has been noted whenever possible, but does not represent the total that will be expended.

CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO, Engineering Department, City Hall. By far the largest expenditures in this department during 1917 will be for the further development of the Hetch-

Hetchy project and while definite appropriations for this work will not be made before June, it is assumed that considerably over $1,500,000 will be expended during this year. To this amount must be added funds expended for street and sewer construction, bridges and for the further extension of the municipal railroad system.

REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA. During 1917 the University Regents expect to expend $2,300,000 in construction. By far the greater part of this construction work will be under the direct supervision of Architect John Galen Howard, 604 Mission street.

The possible construction of buildings on the property of the Regents of the University of California in Oakland at 14th street, and also in San Francisco, may increase the total expenditure by a considerable amount.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, Architectural Department, State Architect George B. McDougall, Forum Bldg., Sacramento. A large number of projects for state buildings are now being considered by the State Board of Control and will be in the hands of the State Printer within a day or two. It is safe to estimate that $2,500,000 will be expended on building construction through this office during the year, but the various institutions to be enlarged and the amounts appropriated for new construction can not be given until later.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION, Forum Bldg., Sacramento. The $15,000,000 which will be available for construction during this year has been divided into two parts, i. e., $12,000,000 to complete the original system and $3,000,000 for joint payment for certain roads designated in the act, the balance to be paid by the various Counties.

About $10,000,000 in government funds will be expended during 1917 for road construction, of which amount California will receive about 20 per cent. These funds will be expended in the construction of highways adjacent to National Parks and National Forest Reserves.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, Light House Service, Custom House, S. F. The most important expenditure to be made by this department of the United States Government during 1917 will be or the construction of a light house and fog signal station at Point Conception on the Humbodt County coast. The engineer's estimate for this work is $80,000, and bids will be called for during February or March.

VARIOUS CALIFORNIA COUNTIES. While a great many more counties than these noted are to vote bonds during this year, mention is here made of the most important brought to our notice by the County Clerks.

OAKLAND AND ALAMEDA COUNTY. Aside from county highway construction and municipal improvements Alameda County and the City of Oakland have the following work in prospect for 1917:

First unit of a county hospital, Class A construction, $250,000. The project in its entirety will cost $1,000,000.

RECENT TESTS BY BUREAU OF STANDARDS.

Among the tests conducted recently by the United States Bureau of Standards as aids to the development of industrial methods were series relating to the construction of concrete columns and the production of insulating material.

Three tests were made of a special commercial insulating material to determine its fire-resisting properties. The material submitted by the manufacturers was intended for use in a number of instances to replace wood. The test specimens were about 18 by 18 inches and 6 inches thick.. They were placed in a furnace as a panel, one of the larger faces being exposed to the heat of the furnace and the other to the atmosphere. Upon being heated to 950 degrees in 30 minutes and held at that temperature for four hours it was found that the temperature at a distance of 1½ inches from the heat-exposed surface was about 240 degrees C. At a depth of 5½ inches from the heat-exposed surface 66 degrees was the highest temperature recorded. One of the blocks after having been subjected to this heat for the period mentioned was quenched with water. The damage to the specimen that was quenched was found to be less than to an unquenched specimen. This is explained by the fact that the blocks contained considerable organic matter which tended to be disintegrated by the heat transmitted very slowly from the heated surface even after the flame was removed from it.

First Columns of Kind to be Tested in This Country.

The series of tests of concrete columns was partly in the nature of an investigation and partly in the nature of routine testing. These are the first columns of their kind to be tested in this country. The unique feature is a hollow cast-iron core. This is surrounded by concrete, reinforced with both spiral and vertical reinforcing. Such a column may be made very cheaply. Not many results have yet been obtained, but the tests are still in progress. It would appear, however, that the load which these columns can sustain is considerably in excess of that which can be borne by the ordinary reinforced concrete column of an equivalent cross section.

Are Two Wheels of Your Truck Loafing?

If the front wheels of your truck are merely carrying part of the load, they're loafing.

They should be pulling. Because when the rear wheels do all the work they wear out tires faster than they should. They strain the truck and shorten its life. They consume too much gasoline and oil. They don't start and stop quickly.

That's why in keenest competition in the European war zone, and with our U. S. troops in Mexico, and again among the big trucking fleets of our largest corporations—THE CLINTONVILLE.

F W D

is showing big savings from regularity and dependability of service; from untiring endurance that other trucks can't have—because they're not FOUR WHEEL DRIVE.

On the F-W-D Truck every wheel is a Driving Wheel. The strains and stresses are divided and distributed. Road blows and resistance can't hit hard at any one point. So the F-W-D lasts years longer. The F-W-D eliminates minor and major breakdowns that lose time and minimize your profits. The F-W-D keeps ON the road and OUT of the repair shop.

The F-W-D saves 20 to 25 per cent of gasoline and oil money. It reduces first cost of tires one-third. It doubles tire mileage. It starts quickly—stops quickly. Breaks on four wheels as well as drives on four wheels. It saves time and avoids accidents. Phone for demonstrations.

FOREST NOTES.

During the fiscal year 1916, 705,872 acres of National Forest timberlands were estimated and mapped intensively, and 1,093,006 extensively. In all, 20,815,798 acres have been mapped by intensive methods and $47,291,660 by extensive methods.

The work of classifying and opening to homestead entry such lands in the National Forests as are chiefly valuable for agriculture is progressing rapidly. Already over seventy million acres have been covered by field examinations and the final reports acted upon.

Investigations by the Forest Products Laboratory, at Madison, Wisconsin, have resulted in the use of spent tanbark in the manufacture of asphalt shingles to the extent of 160 tons per week. The value of the bark has been thereby increased from 60 cents to $2.50 per ton.

There were cut from the National Forests in the fiscal year 1916, 604,902,000 board feet of timber. Of this amount 119,483,000 board feet was cut under free use privilege of 42,055 individuals. In all, 10,840 sales of timber were made, of which 97 per cent were under $100 in value, indicating the extent to which the homesteader, rancher, miner, small millman, and others in need of a limited quantity of timber draw upon the Forests.

FRESNO BUILDING NORMAL.

FRESNO, Cal.—Building for the year of 1916, while lower by $136,216 than the 1915 record, reflect a more regular activity in the construction of dwellings. The deficiency as shown by the totals of 1916 is accounted for in the erection of large buildings, which brings that of the former year considerably over the amount of building in 1916.

A comparison with the building of the year just past with that in 1914 results in a similar conclusion. During 1914, permits for new buildings amounted to $954,368, and alterations to $208,790. Both the new buildings and the repair and alteration permits were in excess of the 1915 and 1916 permits. The months of May, June, July and September, showed new buildings to amount to over $150,000, with alterations and repairs in proportion.

The totals for the years of 1914 and 1915 passed the million mark, which was slightly above the record of 1916. The total for the year, as compiled from the records, is $1,163,158.

NEW SURFACES ON MACADAM HIGHWAYS.

"There are two essentials to all good roads, no matter where built or for what purpose used, and these are proper drainage and a suitable foundation," said Mr. George C. Warren, Boston, Mass., in a paper read at the twenty-thir annual convention of the American Society of Municipal Improvements, at Newark, N. J. "There are now thousands of miles of macadam road in use and because of lack of funds for more costly construction more will be built in the future, even in places where it is recognized that macadam will not long sustain modern exacting traffic. It is the part of wisdom to recognize this fact. Insist upon the adoption of proper drainage, and be prepared to utilize as far as possible the work already done as a foundation for a superior wearing surface when the future use of the road and the character of traffic to which it may be sustained has developed the fact that a different wearing surface from ordinary macadam pavement must be used, and the funds for improvement are economically available.

"The speaker, however, is not one of those who argues or believes that macadam is useless, as a new construction for certain classes of roads, or that old macadam must be torn up and wasted to make place for a new and modern construction. He, however, does state the very firm conviction, based on broad and varied observations and expierence, that macadam, whether water-bound or bitumen-coated, is not adequate to economically or satisfactorily withstand the present traffic of the automobile thoroughfares, which constitute probably more than 75 per cent of the city streets and country roads throughout the United States and Canada.

"The speaker is opposed to the commonly expressed thought that the old macadam must be wasted and a new foundation as well as new surface supplied. On the contrary, economic conservation demands that the old macadam be preserved, and, if too thin to provide a foundation for a new surface, build up but never destroy the old macadam, and then surface with the very best available surface material.

"The speaker would fall short of his duty if he did not add two important points of caution, to wit:

"Be sure the road to be surfaced has macadam worthy of the name.

"Be sure that the road is suitably drained.

"If the old macadam has not a depth of at least four inches of solid metal, it should be reinforced by a surfacing of new metal thoroughly compressed into the old. During construction test holes should be dug in the old macadam at intervals of say one hundred feet. A mere 'shell' of stone which looks fairly well when dry is not sufficient, but does provide a solid construction to build upon without the expense of waste of removal. In short, save what exists and build up on that. Contracts always provide unit prices for new materials of the several grades possibly required for building up the old macadam in sections where such test holes show more metal is required.

"Disturb the old macadam just as little as possible, by accommodating the new lines and grades to the old as far as practicable. For instance, if the crown is too high, correct this as fast as possible by raising the sides and not by excavating from the center of the road.

"If the old street or road is not properly drained, provide such drainage, which is a comparatively simple and inexpensive operation and important, whatever kind of pavement surface or foundation is adopted. These are matters theoretically appreciated by all, but practically neglected in far too many cases by both engineers and road builders."

MAIL ORDER FIENDS WHACKED BY "COUNTRY" EDITOR.

Every resident of California, either out of business or tied up in some line of buying and selling in the State, will be the richer and happier for reading an editorial in last week's issue of "The Tidings," the leading newspaper of Fall River, California. That is to say, he or she will be the richer and happier for reading that editorial—if he or she will only determine to act on it.

"Community Loyality" is the title of the Fall River editorial, and the facts apply so forcefully to the entire State of California that the Home Industry League of California is sending out thousands of copies of the article, which reads in part as follows:

Are you going to patronize the mail order house this year? Or are you going to, if necessary, even make a slight, apparent sacrifice and stick to home people?

Whence came the money that you are intending to send to that mail order concern? Did it come from the city in which that concern is located? Not by a long shot. If you are a farmer, it is the product of the soil. What soil? Why, the soil of your own community. Now you, as a practical farmer, know full well the results of the ruinous practice of taking everything from your land and returning nothing to it. You know that this practice must sooner or later impoverish your soil and destroy your source of income.

Can't you realize that in sending your money away from home you are doing to the community just what you would not think of doing to your farm—robbing it of its productive power? You certainly are! Every dollar sent away from your community robs it of just that much of its power for good.

But, perhaps, you are not a farmer, not a mechanic or trader. Then the responsibility rests even more heavily upon you to keep your money in the home channels of trade, because all of it came from the hard earnings of your neighbors and friends, and you have no right to deprive the community of the good it can do if circulated therein.

Yes, we say "no right." No man has any right to be disloyal to his community. Deprive any man entirely of community support and he becomes a pariah—worse than a Robinson Crusoe, for he is among his kind but not of them. What loneliness could be more terrible? If, then, you are thus dependent on your neighbors and friends, do you not owe them an equal allegiance? Are they to consult your interests while you ignore theirs? This were ingratitude of the basest sort.

OAKLAND ARCHITECT IS HONORED BY ASSOCIATION.

John J. Donovan, architect for the city of Oakland has received a signal honor in being appointed by the department of school administration of the National Education Association, to serve as a member of the committee on the standarization of the planning and construction of school buildings. This appointment is not only gratifying to Donovan, but to the city of Oakland, as well, for it is a recognition of the splendid schools of this city.

Among the other architects serving on the committee are William B. Ittner, city architect for St. Louis, Missouri, and C. B. J. Snyder, city architect for the city of New York, both cities being famous for their school architecture.

Donovan will collect accurate data on the best schools of the Pacific coast, and will later meet with the committee for consultation and tabulate the information obtained from all the great cities of the United States.

Amang Oakland's most famous schools for which Donovan is responsible, are the Technical high school, and many grammar schools, including the Emerson, Jefferson, Lockwood, Clawson, Durant, Lakeview, Longfellow, Washington, McChesney and others.

Donovan is at present building schools at Palto Alto, San Leandro, and Albany, as well as in Oakland, and with his partner, C. W. Dickey, is making plans for a large high school at Elko, Nevada, to be erected in the spring. He stands today as one of the best informed school architects in the United States.

BUILDING TRADES EMPLOYERS' ASSOCIATION ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

The untimely death, some few weeks ago, of Geo. S. McCallum, for many years Secretary of the Building Trades Employers' Association, is called to mind by the adoption by that association of the following resolutions, which were suitably engrossed and presented to the family of the late Mr. McCallum.

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Heavenly Father in His Divine Wisdom to remove from our midst and out of the sphere of his earthly usefulness, our beloved secretary, George S. McCallum, and

WHEREAS, In the passing of Secretary McCallum, the Building Trade Employers' Association has lost a faithful officer, a man esteemed by all for his many good and noble qualities, a conscientious, untiring worker for the upbuilding of the building industry, and

WHEREAS, We have been impressed with the lesson of the uncertainty of human life by the sudden passing of our beloved Secretary from this world into the mysterious hereafter, "whose portal we call death," now, therefore, be it

BUILDING OPERATIONS FOR DECEMBER, 1916.

December completes a remarkable year in building construction. For each month of 1916 there was an increase over the corresponding month of 1915. The activity reached its maximum last July, when the gain was 83 per cent. For several months the increase was slight but 1916 was always on the upgrade side. The closing month is modest in its comparative showing.

The official reports of building operations in 110 principal cities of the country, as received by the American Contractor, Chicago, The California Development Board and The Daily Pacific Builder, total for December $69,503,584, as compared with $67,687,684 for December, 1915. The total is almost identical with that of November and the shrinkage with the approach of winter is somewhat less than normal. It was a successful closing of a most successful year.

The showing for the year 1916 is altogether satisfactory. The details of the December operations are as follows:

CAPITAL STOCK, $100,000

Sacramento, Placerville, Nevada City, Reno

SACRAMENTO OFFICE
ROSS E. PIERCE - Manager
905 SIXTH STREET

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The City Commission has authorized Commissioner of Public Works Thomas Coulter to draft and submit for approval a uniform building law.

This action was taken at the request of the Sacramento Builders' Exchange, who claim building activities are being held back by the lack of a uniform law.

RENO, Nev.—Following a conference of Governor Boyle, Attorney General Thatcher and Reno city officials, it has been decided to introduce a bill in the Legislature, compelling Reno to erect a modern sewage plant, at a cost of $150,000. The proposed sum will be raised by the sale of 20-year bonds.

It has been found the State has no power to force the Floriston paper mill to keep its refuse out of the Truckee River, as long as Reno and Sparks continue to dump their sewage into the stream.

WOODLAND, Cal.—W. R. Fait, local contractor, is to erect several houses on lots he purchased recently in Beamer Park here. Announcement is to the effect that he will first erect a home for himself and then several modern cottages for sale.

FLOOD CONTROL BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED ON.

H. R. 14777, the flood control bill, now before the United States Senate, approves the flood control project for the Mississippi and an ultimate appropriation of $45,000,000, to be appropriated not more than $10,000,000 in any one year, and the Sacramento River flood control project, with an ultimate appropriation of $5,600,000, not more than $1,000,000 to be appropriated in one year.

It also provides machinery under which any flood control project of merit, on favorable report and recommendation from the Board of Engineers, may receive consideration and appropriation from Congress. This is a new departure on the part of Congress since, in the past, it has refused, in theory at least, to make appropriations in matters of this kind unless the interests of commerce and navigation are involved. Indeed, in the Sacramento River project itself the appropriation proposed by Congress is only one-half of the cost of such work as is recommended by the government engineers as being necessary in the interests of commerce and navigation.

The Sacramento River project, which the bill approves, contemplates a total expenditure of approximately $42,000,000, of which $11,200,000 is to be expended under direction of the Federal engineers in the interests of commerce and navigation by deepening and widening the mouth of the river from Rio Vista to Collinsville, 15 miles, and in the construction of four weirs on the Sacramento River over which the excess floods of the river will pass and be carried through by-passes down to Cache Slough where they will be emptied again into the river at Rio Vista and carried in the enlarged channel to the Bay. Congress is to pay $5,600,000 and the State a similar amount.

The construction of all other parts of the project, which include all the river and by-pass levees and the securing of right-of-way for by-passes and overflow channels, is to be done under direction of the State and at the expense of the land owners who will be assessed therefor in proportion to benefits received. The total expense of this portion of the project it is estimated will be about $30,000,000 a considerable portion of which has already been expended in the construction of river and by-pass levees. This portion of the work is under the direction of the State Reclamation Board, created for the purpose by the Legislature of 1911 (special session) and endowed with increased powers since then.

The project and the method of financing, as thus explained, were formulated by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors and have already been adopted by the State of California, while the passage of the flood control bill would secure similar formal adoption by Congress. In the event of the passage of the bill it would then be up to the State Legislature at the present session to determine how rapidly the portion of the project under Federal control is to be constructed, by fixing the amount of the State appropriation. The State budget provides for $500,000 for the purpose on the theory that Congress cannot make similar appropriation until the coming session, and the money will not be available until July 1918, and that the Legislature of 1919 will be in position to make further appropriation. The recommendation of the engineers was that appropriations should be made on such basis as to insure the completion of this portion of the project in five or six years, to secure the greatest amount of economy and efficiency. That would involve an appropriation of $1,000,000 each year by Congress and the same by the State of California.

The work at the mouth of the river has progressed for some years past under direction of the Federal Engineers and under what is known as the "minor" project, providing for 56 months' work of two large dredges. This work, it is expected, will be finished by the commencement of 1918, when work must stop unless in the meanwhile the "major" project, as already adopted by the State and now provided for in the flood control bill, has been adopted by Congress and appropriations made thereunder. The work at the river's mouth has progressed so far as to provide a cutoff across Horseshoe Bend of the full width contemplated and a navigable channel therein 25 feet deep and 500 feet wide. Through this cut commerce will be diverted within a short time while the old Horseshoe Bend channel is closed to navigation in order to permit the cutting off of old Baker's Point and the depositing of material therefrom on spoil banks across the river.

IRRIGATION AND RIVER DRAINAGE IN PERU.

Increasing recognition of the importance of irrigation in Peru is shown by the recent adoption of a law authorizing the President to arrange for the completion of irrigation work in the district of Sicaya in the Province of Huancayo, just east of Lima. El Peruano also notes that the Peruvian Government has granted authority to Enrique Fracchia to make surveys for the irrigation of vacant land in the district of Nazcan in the coast Provvian corporation is authorized to exince of Ica, south of Lima. The Perucute drainage works in the river Rimac near Lima, deepening the channel above the Balta bridge and strengthening the dykes, the Government to assume half the expense of these improvments.

BUSINESS RAILROAD VOTE SOON TO BE ANNOUNCED.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Commercial organizations of the country are now balloting on a railroad referendum the result of which will be announced at the Fifth Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States two weeks hence. Business men will go on record in the matter of disputes between railroads and their employees, particularly the prevention of strikes and lockouts. An entire session of the forthcoming gathering will be devoted to the railroad situation. C. F. Weed, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, is the chairman of the National Chamber Railroad Committee.

National defense, to which the Chamber is committed, and is seeking from Congress legislation to carry out the program endorsed in its referendum is to be discussed at the Annual Meeting. Among the speakers will be the Secretary of War, Major General Leonard A. Wood and Howard E. Coffin of the Naval Consulting Board. The report of the Chamber's Committee on National Defense will be submitted by its chairman, Bascom Little, formerly president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

Another entire session will be devoted to the critical subject of industrial relations and still another to conditions after the war, divided into four aspects: business conditions, financial conditions, transportation and education for foreign trade. The Secretary of Commerce will speak on Trade Preparations after the War; Wallace D. Simmons, president of the Simmons Hardware Company, on Education for Foreign Trade and other well known experts will discuss subjects in this important section.

Daylight saving, according to Elliot H. Goodwin, general secretary of the National Chamber, will also come in for a considerable share of discussion. Roberts Garland, president of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of this committee.

The session will begin January 31 and end February 2. There will be a meeting of the National Council on January 30. The sessions will close with a banquet on Friday.

AGRICULTURAL TRACTORS IN RUSSIA.

[Russian-American Journal of Commerce, January.]

The tractors ordered by the Russian Department of Agriculture in the spring of 1916 have only recently arrived via Vladivostok. The order was a trial one and consisted only of 40 tractors. Notwithstanding the fact that the tractors arrived after considerable delay and can be utilized only in the coming spring, they have already been eagerly bought up by different landowners. The tractors are sold to the farmers on easy terms; the payments have to be made in three installments in the course of two years. The success of the trial has led the department to order 100 tractors, which are expected in April. They will consist of two types of tractors: Large ones of 60 horsepower and small ones of 8-10 horsepower. There is very little demand for tractors of medium power.

The American tractors demonstrated in the presence of a number of agricultural officials and crowds of peasantry at Samara, it is reported, have created a profound impression. There is but one defect in the tractors, and that is that the plowshares are set too close to each other and in this way they are easily packed with earth.

Chico Man to Renew Suggestion That City Buy His Power Plant Site.

CHICO, Cal.—According to an announcement made by Dennis Murphy, owner of a power plant site on Deer Creek, he will appear before the next meeting of the Business Men's Association to renew his proposal for a municipal lighting system for Chico. Murphy wants to sell his water rights to the city.

He will be accompanied by an engineer, who will give the business men definite information concerning the cost of erecting the proposed plant. A rough estimate of the cost is $500,000 for the plant and $250,000 for transmission lines and a distributing system.

ENGINEERS WILL WAR ON CHICAGO MOSQUITO.

CHICAGO, Ill.—War on the [illegible] has been declared by the Illinois Society of Engineers. Plans are announced to organize a special corps of the society to push a campaign to drain all the swamp land and eradicate malaria and mosquitoes. It was pointed out that there are more cases of disease in the State a year with an average of 700 deaths annually; and an economic loss to the State of about $3,000,000 a year. The engineers placed the total cost of draining all this swamp land in the State at $15,000,000.

WAR HALTS WORK OF ARCHITECTS

BERKELEY, Cal. The University of California has been asked by the department of home affairs of the commonwealth of Australia to aid in bringing to the knowledge of American architects the fact that because of war conditions, the government installed November 14, 1916, has indefinitely postponed the reception of designs in the architectural competition for a federal parliament house. The ministry has arranged for the registration of competitors to be retained and intends to complete the adopted program as soon as the time is opportune.

A Revolution In Dump Trucks.

Many of our most prominent contractors are interested in the claims made by M. S Bulkley Co., Autocar distributers that the light dump truck unit is rapidly replacing the heavier dump trucks wherever they have had experience with both for a sufficient length of time to enable them to make honest comparisons between the merits of the lighter and the heavier units, both as to upkeep and earning capacity.

M. S. Bulkley Co. claim that the Autocar dump truck, on account of its greater speed and general all around handiness of operation, its short wheel base, its sturdy construction, have proven them to be almost as efficient in tonnage delivery and infinitely less expensive in upkeep in the the long run.

The no-wear- out scheme of Autocar construction make them particularly adapted for dump truck operation, which on account of the character of this work entails greater abuse and wear and tear on the truck than in any other line of truck operation.

It is claimed that all wear in Autocar can be economically renewed for an unlimited time, that the Autocar can always be economically kept as good as new in all parts. Because the low cost of wearing services which are made interchangeable and immediately accessible enable any worn part to be replaced with the least amount of labor and part cost.

M. S. Bulkley Co. most earnestly assert that the Autocar principal of construction if thoroughly understood in detail will convince anyone that Autocars can never wear out or become too expensive in upkeep for continuous and uninterrupted operation. If they can do this it would seem as though it was the most practical solution of the dump truck problem.

Three of the latest Building Material firms who have purchased the Autocar Commercial Car are, the Sibley Grading & Teaming Co., San Francisco; Mr. Wisnom of the Excelsior Lumber Co., San Mateo, and the Atlas Mortar Co. of San Francisco. These firms subjected the Autocar to the most severe tests. Ask them about the Autocar.

SHALL CLOCKS BE SET AHEAD ONE HOUR?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—National attention will be centered on the subject of daylight saving at the Fifth Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to be held in Washington this month. Robert Garland, president of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of a committe which has been studying the question thoroughly. It is expected there will be definite recommendations on the subject.

France, England, Italy, Germany and other countries have adopted the system. Cleveland and Detroit in 1914 set their clocks an hour forward. It is said officials and commermial organizations in these cities testify the change was made without the least difficulty and has met with universal favor.

The Autocar

The Two Yard Autocar Dump Truck.

The Autocar No-Wear-Out Scheme of Construction, and The Autocar economy in operation and up-keep, with its speed and delivery efficiency, appealed to Sibley & Company's experienced judgement as it will to yours, if you will investigate.

MERCED, Cal.—A highway system to connect Merced, Dos Palos, Atwater, Livingston, Stevinson and other towns, and to complete the state highway and the proposed Yosemite route, will be voted on in Merced County soon, according to the present plans of the Chamber of Commerce, which is preparing plans to present to the supervisors. The Dos Palos road will connect with the proposed West Side highway of Fresno County.

Figures furnished by the Portland Cement Association show that contract awarded for concrete pavements up to December 1, 1916, reached a total of 24,929,148 square yards. Of this total 16,533,129 square yards are roads; 7,501,739 square yards are streets, and 894,280 square yards are alleys. There remain to be collected and tabulated the contracts for December which will make the 1916 total go considerably beyond 25,000,000 square yards.

CHICO, Butte Co., Cal.—Chester Cole, Chico architect, has been awarded the designing of the new rectory of St. Peter's Episcopal Church at Red Bluff. The rectory will cost approximately $3,000.

"SCHOOL ON WHEELS."

"That the 'School on Wheels' operated by the Southern Pacific Company may mark a new era in education," is the interesting comment of "Life" on this latest railroad innovation. "Life" under the caption, "Our Monotonous Schools," says:

"Does the school on wheels now operated by the Southern Pacific Company mark a new era in education? Twenty-five children are taught daily in an abandoned passenger car. This is for the benefit of the children belonging to the section gang on the railroad. To our own mind, the rigid extent of our own public school buildings has long been a matter of doubtful value. We do not mean to state that public school buildings are not at present necessary. But when one considers the enormous expense of these plants, and in contrast with it the wonderful adaptability of the human mind, at least it is fair to raise the question whether we are not making a mistake by unduly encouraging our school buildings to take up such a large portion of the expense of education.

"Consider the course of a pupil in one of our public schools. For years he occupies the same building, of which the class rooms are all precisely alike. Even the pictures on the walls are likely to remain there without change. When he moves from the lower grades into the high school he is transferred, possibly, into another building, but which is essentially uniform with the one he has just left. At the most formative period of his life he is subjected to a deadly uniformity extending over years. Even the book covers all look alike. He must feel that all the text books are baked for him in the same oven. Each one of us knows by experience how our environment affects us, and how, when it becomes too monotonous, it reacts upon our entire organism. Outside of the cut-and-dried school building is the utmost variety as far as the eye and mind can reach nature and man vying with each other to produce the contrasts needed to stimulate the whole being. No wonder the imprisoned pupil whoops as he tears loose from this deadly monotony. Then consider also the effect upon the teachers. Watch them, talk to them, and see what they say about it. What a wonderfully interesting experiment it would be not to have any school at all, but just teachers and pupils. We have a feeling that something really big would come out of this experiment."

HONOLULU ENJOYS GREATLY INCREASED BUILDING OPERATIONS.

Building operations in Honolulu during 1916 totaled nearly $900,000 more than in 1915. The total is greatly in excess of that of any previous year, according to the records of the building inspector of the city and county of Honolulu. Building permits issued in 1916 numbered 1,161, with an estimated cost of $2,357,075, while in 1915 permits issued 1,258, with an estimated cost of $1,468,307.

Difficulty has been experienced by builders throughout the islands in obtaining shipments of material from the mainland. Among the building operations so held up are those of the six-story steel and concrete wings of the Moana Hotel, Waikiki Beach, Honolulu, which will represent an expenditure of $250,000. These were to have been completed in February, 1917, but on account of non-delivery of material will not be finished until June or July.

For 1917 and 1918 the public school commissioners of the Territory of Hawaii have proposed large expenditures upon buildings and equipment, to the total amount of $753,250. The requirements are divided principally as follows: Island of Hawaii, $257,600; Maui, $113,500; Kauai, $74,350; Oahu, $307,750.

AUSTRALIAN INDUSTRIES EMPLOY AMERICAN EXPERTS.

SYDNEY, Australia.— There is a market tendency toward increasing Australia's production of manufactured goods, especially in such lines as metals, textiles, glassware, rubber tires, chemicals, and drugs. To this end 40 expert glassworkers were recently brought from the United States to take important positions in the large glass factories at Sydney, Melbourne, and Adelaide; expert motor-tire builders have been engaged to remedy any defects that may exist in local manufactures; and skilled metallurgists are coming from America to give the benefit of their knowledge to Australian producers of lead, copper, and steel. Australian manufacturers also are sending employees to the United States to become familiar with American shop methods and to purchase machinery for the industries they represent.

Beating the 8-Hour Law.

The Secretary of War desires authority to make purchases abroad of material of any class which cannot be procured in this country with the provisions of the 8-hour law of June 19, 1912. In a communication to Congress, Mr. Baker says:

"The act approved June 19, 1912, generally known as the eight-hour law provides in the general that a contract may not be made for articles other than ordinary supplies except with a provision limiting the hours of labor to eight per day for each laborer or mechanic doing any part of the work contemplated by the contract. This provision leaves the Government in the position of being unable to secure material, not ordinary supplies, should it fail to find a contractor competent to deliver the material and willing to do so under the eight-hour law, provided war be not either existing or imminent. In times such as the present, when producers are flooded with orders, this condition may readily arise and, in fact, some embarrassment along this line has occurred. It seems unwise that the Government should be left in such a helpless condition, and it is therefore recommended that authority of law be given for procurement abroad should such condition arise. The following is suggested for enactment into law: 'That in case of failure to secure material of any class, under the act approved June 19, 1912, limiting hours of labor, after diligent trial, such material may be procured abroad, without limitation as to hours of labor and when so procured, it shall be admitted free of duty.'"

CALIFORNIA MEDIATION ACT.

Safeguarding the Public Interests in Industrial Disputes Affecting Public Service.

The California Mediation Act introduced at the present session of the Legislature by Assemblyman Goetting, with the full support of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, is a measure of State-wide interest and proposes to do for California what President Wilson believes should be done for the nation with respect to mediation in strikes and lockouts on interstate railroads.

The California Mediation Bill will affect strikes and lockouts in connection with any State public utility such as railroad companies, telegraph and telephone companies, and light, heat, water and power companies.

Where a strike or a lockout affects a public utility, like a railroad, or a telegraph company, or a light and power company, not only the comfort but the material welfare of a great portion, and in some cases of all, of the public will necessarily be directly affected by a strike. The farmer who wants to ship his products to market, often products of a perishable nature, feels the effect of a railroad strike.

The whole industrial activity of the State would be affected by a strike on the telegraph or telephone companies. A power company strike might affect interurban communications or tie up industrial establishments dependent on the power generated and thus affect the employment of their employees. Whole communities might go without light in the case of a strike on a lighting company. In all these possible cases, the interest of the public is paramount to the interest of any employer or any set of employees.

The California Mediation Act does not deny the right to strike; it merely suspends that right during the time of public investigation. It does not affect strikes or lockouts, except those occurring on public utilities.

The Mediation Act provides for a Board of Mediation to reconcile differences arising between employer and employees connected with State public utilities. In the event of the findings of the board not being acceptable to either party, the right either to strike or lockout still remains. The act suspends the right of strike or lockout during this public investigation and report. The basic principle of the act is that public opinion must prevail, but that it should be an intelligent public opinion formed after a full knowledge of the facts.

The principles involved in this law have been tried successfully in Canada under what is there known as the "Industrial Disputes Investigation Act," which has been in force there since 1907. In a recent official report showing the operation of the Canadian Act since its adoption in March, 1907, it appears that as a result of this Act ninety per cent of the threatened strikes and lockouts have been avoided in those industries to which the Act applies. Taking one Canadian fiscal year, as an example, the average time taken to investigate and report upon a dispute referred under the Canadian Act was forty-nine days.

The American Federation of Labor, in its recent convention at Baltimore, unanimously declared its opposition to the suggestion of President Wilson with respect to compulsory mediation. It appears likely that the representatives of organized labor will oppose the passage of the California Mediation Act at the present session of the California Legislature. The issue involved in this Mediation Act is the simple issue: Shall the people rule or, in matters in which the public at large are vitally interested, shall the people be ruled by a class

Before the public is subjected to the discomfort, to the loss, to the injury resulting from a strike or lockout on a public utility, they are surely entitled to know what the dispute is about, to form their opinion concerning the merits of the dispute and to bring to bear upon the settlement of that dispute the force of a carefully matured public opinion.

This in substance is what the Mediation Act will accomplish; and if the Mediation Act should fail of passage, the vital interests of the public must continue to be made subordinate to the clash of personal interests between employer and employee connected with the public utility services of the State.

CHICO, BUTTE CO., CAL. Water system. Cost as follows: Engineer, C. M. Burleson, 785 Market street, S. F. Owner, Dennis Murphy, Chico. C. M. Burleson has been employed by Dennis Murphy of Chico to appear before the City Trustees to urge them to buy a site from Murphy for the construction of a municipal power plant. The site is on Deer Creek. It is estimated by Burleson that $477,838 would be necessary for the construction of the plant, and in this sum he includes an additional sum for any unforseen accidents or disabilities that the work of constructing the plant might encounter. The watershed subsidiary to the dam and canal would cover an area of over 175 square miles, from the dam to the power house a five-mile canal would be necessary for the feeding of the plant. Many Chico business men are interested in the proposed work and will meet with Burleson to find if the project is practicable. The Trustees have been considering the matter for some time and it is probable that an early decision will be rendered.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—County Highway Commissioners F. W. McKevitt and George N. Randle, accompanied by Engineer C. W. Morton, spent two days of last week in San Francisco interviewing the heads of the cement companies and the managers of the several railroad corporations, informing them of the intention of the Highway Commission of this county to purchase a large quantity of material at one time and expecting favorable consideration from them in quoting prices. They were well received by the managers of the big corporations but were neither encouraged nor discouraged in their proposal to buy in quantities, and no ~~ranking~~ was given to them as to what would be the attitude of the various corporations with which it would be necessary to do business.

It was thought best by the Commissioners to have a personal talk with the heads of these companies before advertising for bids for supplies. It is the opinion of the Commissioners that the course they pursued will work to the advantage of the county. This, however, will be demonstrated when bids for material are considered in the next few weeks. It is expected that advertisements will be inserted in newspapers before the end of the month.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The last house to be wrecked in the Capitol Extension land was attacked recently by the Capital Wrecking Company, and was formerly owned by Mrs. Lena Kapp. The apartment house purchased by A. G. Ernst will be moved within the next two weeks. The Kapp property will be completely wrecked in three days.

GRIDLEY, Butte Co., Cal.—Representatives of Libby, McNeil & Libby appeared before the Farmers' Union Saturday afternoon and agreed to open a local cannery provided the farmers would agree to plant at least 500 acres to tomatoes.

Representatives of other interests also have agreed to start cannery activities here, provided assurance is given that there will be plenty of products for canning.

CHANGE IN PRICE LIST OF WYBRO PANELS.

White Bros., 5th and Brannan streets, San Francisco, have just issued Price List F, which goes into effect March 1st.

Owing to the advance in price of glue and veneers, and the higher wages paid for labor, it was imperative that the prices be advanced.

If our readers wish to take advantage of the present prices which will only prevail until March 1st, we strongly advise that orders be sent in at once—delay means losing an opportunity of saving money before the new prices take effect.

It is well known that WYBRO QUALITY cannot be equalled at any price. ALL PANELS WILL ADVANCE in price by March 1st. Some Eastren Manufacturers will even go so far as to produce an inferior article even at the higher price, but no panel made can possibly equal WYBRO quality and smoothness. The enthusiastic endorsement of thousands of users proves this fact.

LUMBER CUT CENSUS.

California lumbermen cut two hundred fifty million feet more of lumber in 1916 than in 1915, according to District Forester Coert DuBois. To date forty-five mills each cutting ten million or more per year have reported an output of 1,234,000,000 feet. The cut of forty-three of these mills was 1,221,742,000 feet in 1916, while in 1915 the same mills cut 976,410,000 feet.

Building Totals.

JANUARY, 1917.

The official totals for building operations in 113 cities in January, as received by the American Contractor, Chicago, California Development Board and the Daily Pacific Builder, total $57,033,375, as compared with $51,687,593 for January, 1916. There is the usual diversity in the individual showings, 61 of the cities showing gains and 48 losses in the comparison.

There have been some additional advances in the prices of building material during January and the relatively high costs have no doubt induced some prospective builders to delay actual work temporarily. The present volume of construction work seems to represent in large measure that for which there is urgent need. And that work of that description exceeds by a very substantial margin the entire operations of a year ago bespeaks an expanding volume of general business. The detailed statement follows:

*While permits applied for [illegible]

Angeles amounted to $1,082,235, actual building contracts recorded amounted to only $[illegible]

MARYSVILLE, Cal.—Evidence of building activities in Marysville is seen in figures covering the period since March 1, 1916, showing total building permits aggregated $107,165. This is an increase of $7,165 over the same period during 1915-16.

TURLOCK, Cal.—Turlock is showing a steady growth as is revealed by the figures furnished by the Board of Trade of that city. There is being constructed at this time a two-story brick hospital at the cost of $17,000; a two-story brick garage 100x165 feet, at a cost of $15,000; a two-story brick warehouse, at a cost of $5,000, and three one-story store rooms costing $10,000, a creamery and ice plant and ten frame cottages.

GRASS VALLEY, Cal.—Through the efforts of an active committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Grass Valley, work is progressing very satisfactorily towards financing an $80,000 hotel for that city. No outside help or capital is being solicited, as the committee believes the citizens have sufficient confidence in their city to finance this proposition.

During the present month a new bank building costing approximately $40,000 will be completed for the Nevada County Bank at Grass Valley. It is in the heart of the business section and will be used exclusively for bank purposes.

CRESCENT MILLS, Plumas Co., Cal.—The Great Western Power Company, which was given permission recently by the State Railroad Commission to supply the Crescent Mining Company with power, has a force of thirty men at work putting up the transmission line. For the present the current will be supplied by the plant at Butte Valley.

The Crescent Mining Company has all the machinery in place for pumping out the shaft and opening up the tunnels and as soon as power is provided a large force of men will be put on.

Later the Western Power Company will supply the valley from the high power line now being built up the Feather River Canyon from Las Plumas.

GERBER, Tehama Co., Cal.—A contract has been let for the construction of a modern building to house the local Post Office. It will be furnished with latest fixtures throughout.

The new building will be located on San Benito Avenue a short distance from the Southern Pacific Station.

RIO VISTA, Cal.—The California Packing Corporation is making extensive improvements on its Rio Vista plant. Carpenters are preparing new cottages for employes. This year the cannary expects to pack about 180,000 cases.

YUBA CITY, Cal.—Four types of construction will be considered for the proposed $20,000 County Hospital authorized by the taxpayers at the November election. Concrete brick, frame and metal lath will be figured on by the architect. Chester Cole of Chico, who has been selected by the Supervisors.

MAGALIA, Butte Co., Cal.—I. W. Leslie has made all arrangements to commence lumbering on a large scale at Lovelock, four miles from Magalia. The lumber mill will have a capacity of 25,000 feet daily and there are many million feet of lumber in sight in the section. Work will commence immediately on erecting the mill and cutting down the nearby timber.

The mill is backed by several Oakland capitalists, who thoroughly investigated this section of the country before investing. It is understood that the mill will be rushed to early completion and that a large force of mill hands and lumbermen will be employed.

STOCKTON, San Joaquin Co., Cal.—Options have been secured on several sites for the $2,000,000 sugar refinery to be erected either in Stockton or close to the city by the Stockton Sugar Company, a corporation financed by Los Angeles capitalists.

Frank F. Lyons, who recently resigned as County Farm Adviser to join the forces of the company, reports marked success in signing up sugar beet acreage, so the company is assured an ample supply of raw material. This will be the third refinery in the county. Two others are now building.

VALLEJO, Cal.—John Scollard has purchased six lots in the Vallejo Annex with a view to building on them. Within a short time four houses are to be built on the six lots and these will be subsequently sold or rented.

Scollard is his own contractor.

LODI, Cal.—C. E. Pike, representing a San Francisco capitalist, has purchased the Grape Juice factory and will convert it into a cannery. He is now contracting with farmers here, whom he wants to grow 100 acres of tomatoes for this year's run.

WESTWOOD, Lassen Co., Cal.—In addition to the houses being erected at the foot of Third and Delwood streets, two more foundations have been laid in the 600 block on Birch street.

Although nothing definite is announced, it is expected a large number will be built by the Red River Lumber Company during the year, as there was a halt in construction last year. It had been arranged for the erection of upwards of 200 new residences in 1916, and it is believed this program will be carried out this year.

ARGENTINA AS A NEW BUSINESS FIELD.

Dr. Tomas A. Le Breton, member of the Argentine Chamber of Deputies, is interested in a local firm that has issued a pamphlet containing in concise form considerable information regarding this country as a new business field for the United States. Dr. Le Breton is preparing to visit the United States for a study of some of the Governmental bureaus and institutions. In addition to furnishing statistical facts and general information regarding Argentina, he says in his pamphlet.

It must be held in mind that at the time war was declared there was in the Argentine a considerable stock of goods, and that on account of the difficulty in obtaining shipping space, the almost prohibitive rate of freight, and the rise in the prices of the goods themselves, commercial houses have abstained from buying more than the quantities required to fill immediate demands.

A bare glance at the statistics for 1913, 1914 and 1915 shows that North American commerce has already filled to a certain ertent the vacancy created by the exceptional circumstances through which we are passing, and also that there are many lines in which its trade with the Argentine Republic could be considerably augmented.

For many years the United States have only exported foodstuffs and raw materials, which are rapidly consumed. A credit of 30 to 90 days was usually granted to buyers, this being the approximate duration of a normal cycle of production. When manufactured articles are exported things vary considerably. Such articles are not consumed so rapidly as is the case with raw materials or foodstuffs, and hence the necessity of granting buyers a longer term for payment.

"AWAKENING OF BUSINESS."

"Awakening of Business" is the title of a 240-page book by Mr. Edward N. Hurley, published by Doubleday, Page & Co. for the associated advertising clubs of the world in the latter part of 1916. Mr. Hurley is chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, but in his preface assumes "personal responsibility for all the views expressed in this book," which are "in no sense those of the Federal Trade Commission." He starts out with a discussion of how American business men can help themselves. The 12 chapters showing how constitute the first half of the book. Part 2, 6 chapters of about 75 pages, is on "Government and Business." In the appendixes are set forth the Federal Trade Commission act and the provisions of the Clayton Act which concern the Federal Trade Commission.

There is a discussion of the biggest problems to be faced by American business men, and suggestions are given as to how to meet new and old difficulties. Mr. Hurley feels that the war in Europe has done much to arouse business in European countries and points out that if our business men are to hold their own in competition following the war a similar awakening is necessary in this country. Great stress is laid on the importance of cost accounting, in merchandising as well as in industrial production. In many respects Germany is held up as a model for American business to follow, and some interesting facts about the organization of business in Germany and other countries are given. There are several chapters on foreign trade, including some specific discussions of co-operation in the American export trade. This book is especially to be recommended to anyone interested in co-operation in business, in foreign trade, and the Government regulation of business. Naturally considerable space is given to the work of the Federal Trade Commission.

DEMAND FOR ELECTRICAL SPECIALTIES FOR SIAM.

In the city of Bangkok tumbler switches are generally used for house installations, although push-button switches are also found serviceable in places where they can be concealed in walls. For installations up to 20-30 amperes capacity separate porcelain cutouts with open-link copper or brass-tipped fuses are used, or the same fuses in connection with double-pole knife switches. However, a local electric company states that the open-link fuses are now being replaced by inclosed fuses and that it expects to use the latter in incleasing numbers for new installations. For capacities above 20-30 amperes inclosed fuses are employed almost exclusively, and those in use at present are according to the American national electric code standard. The company referred to informs the Bangkok consulate that it is a buyer of all the above-mentioned lines and the manufacturers' catalogues sent to it will receive careful consideration. (The catalogues may be addressed to the American Consulate Bangkok, Siam.)

Electrical goods and apparatus imported into Siam through the port of Bangkok during the five years ended March 31, 1916, had the following values: In the fiscal year 1911-12, $331,422; in 1912-13, $228,771; in 1913-14, $415,851; in 1914-15, $174,982; and in 1915-16, $252,050. The share of the United States in this trade during the last-named year was $46,951, against $23,637 in 1914-15.

Bangkok still remains the only city in Siam having electric light and power, but there has been much activity here lately in installing electric lighting in private houses, and all new buildings are now provided with electric lighting fixtures.

SWIMMING POOLS SHOULD BE KEPT SANITARY.

Public swimming pools should be kept in the most sanitary condition, in order that they may not be sources of disease infection. The California State Board of Health is interested in the relation of such places to the spread of communicable diseases and desires that all public swimming pools and bath houses be placed under the Board's supervision. Not only should the water in these pools be of unquestioned purity, but the bathing apparel and towels should be cleaned, dried and stored in a sanitary manner. Life saving apparatus should be provided and measures to insure the safety of bathers should be adopted. The personal cleanliness of bathers should also be required.

During the past summer, several cases of communicable diseases, undoubtedly contracted in public swimming pools, came to the attention of the Board. The need of the sanitation of such places is apparent and it is proposed that all public swimming pools be required to operate under a permit from the Board. A bill, in which adequate provision for the safety of the bathing public is made, is now before the Legislature. Under the proposed measure, every necssary precaution for conserving the health of bathers in taken and if the bill becomes a law it is reasonable to believe that all who enjoy swimming or bathing in public pools may enjoy the sport in safety.

BELGIUM AND SOCIAL JUSTICE.

In 1914 Belgium had a large and intelligent body of workmen with a lively sense of their importance in Belgium society. They insisted on reforms, improvements, and social justice, and obtained them, but they overlooked the army and the guns. In fact they opposed guns and armies because they thought the military was not related to social justice. So Belgium had an army of 40,000 while Switzerland had one of 400,000. The German General Staff chose the Belgium route to Paris, and now the Belgian working classes have the social justice of Von Bissing und Gott. Switzerland, in her reforms and freedom, is as secure as ever.

Social justice must carry field glasses and don Khaki once a year.

DEMAND FOR PAINTS AND OILS AT HONGKONG.

Hongkong, British China.—The demand for American paints and varnishes, especially zinc and lead paints, in the Hongkong market has increased in the past few months by the impossibility of securing any supplies in this line from Europe, while stocks of foreign paints in all South China ports have decreased to almost nothing except the fair amount of the American kinds so far imported. Native paints and oils have been adapted to immediate needs, but, in spite of that fact, and especially with regard to the trade for shipping, the need of further imports from the United States is apparent, and Hongkong importers are reaching out for American samples and quotations in a way never before experienced. As indicated in previous reports, particularly in the one published in Commerce Reports for May 15, 1915, there is especial need of paints manufactured for this market. The climatic conditions in Hongkong and South China are such that paints manufactured for the American trade are not suitable here, and British and other European manufacturers have been able to hold most of the trade here in previous years because the needs were studied and paints were manufactured especially for this market.

Prices of American and Other Paints.

Previous to the war American paints were about 10 per cent higher in price delivered here than the European make of the same grade, but when prices and qualities were equal the American product had a fair market and was accepted on its merit. How comparative prices will run between the American and European product after the war remains to be seen: but there seems to be no reason why, in some lines at least, American paints can not hold their own in this field indefinitely. In the meanwhile war conditions are affording American manufacturers an opportunity to introduce their products under most favorable circumstances.

AMERICA'S GREATEST YEAR IN FORLIGN TRADE.

American exports for 1916 reached the unprecedented total of $5,481,000,000. According to a statement issued recently by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, of the Department of Commerce, this exceeds the total for 1915 by $1,926,000,000 and the total for 1913 by $2,997,000,000. The exports for December are announced as $521,000,000, which exceeds the previous high monthly total by $5,000,000. The December average for the five years previous was $263,000,000.

Imports in 1916 aggregated 2,392 million dollars, also a record total. For 1915 the total was 1,779 million, and for 1912, the previous record year, 1,818 million. December imports were valued at 205 million dollars, indicating a continuation of the recovery which set in during September last following the sharp decline from the large total of 246 million for June. The December, 1915, total was 172 million and the December average from 1911 to 1915, inclusive, 153 million dollars.

The year's export balance was 3,089 million dollars, as compared with 1,776 million for 1915 and 2,456 for the five-year period from 1910 to 1914, inclusive. The December favorable trade balance was 316 million dollars, compared with 187 million for December, 1915, and 131 million for December, 1914.

The net inward gold movement for the year was 530 million dollars, also a new record. It compares with a net inward gold movement of 421 million in 1915 and a net outward gold movement of 165 million in 1914.

Gold imports in 1916 aggregated 686 million dollars, against 452 million in 1915 and 57 million in 1914. The corresponding gold exports were 156 million, 31 million, and 223 million, respectively. December gold imports were the largest for any month of the year, being 158 million, as against 45 million in December, 1915, and 4 million in December, 1914. December gold exports amounted to 28 million, the high point for the year, but comparing with 12 million for December, 1915, and 131 thousand dollars for December, 1914.

Of the month's imports, 71.71 per cent entered free of duty, thus maintaining the proportion shown in the December imports of the previous year.

THE DAY AND NIGHT ROOFING MAN

Every body in Alameda County knows Sam, the "Day and Night Roofing Man," some times known as the "Why Not" Man.

These titles are well earned, because Sam is on the job 24 hours in the day. If a roofing job gets by him it is not his fault, because he never sleeps.

A story is going the rounds that Sam has been trying to mate Owls with Chickens so as to keep them laying eggs day and night. We don't know how true this yarn is, but it sounds true because Sam is so full of pep and expects every other living creature to be in his class.

But every body knows that the Paraffine Paint Company's goods that Sam hustles is the best to be had, for which reason it is natural to be enthusiastic.

If you don't see him at the General Contractors' Association in Oakland, just Phone him, Lakeside 415 or Berkeley 162.

THE SQUARE DEAL HARDWARE & PAINT COMPANY.

The above is the name of W. F. Howlett's Hardware and Paint Co. at 3448 E-14th street at 35th avenue, East Oakland.

As its name implies, customers are assured of a square deal, because Mr. Howlett adopted the Square Deal as his motto. As a consequence Mr. Howlett has built up a substantial business and numbers his friends and customers by the thousand.

When it comes to Builders' Hardware, Contractors and Owners will find it to their advantage to get Mr. Howlett's estimate, because his price will be right and the goods exactly as represented.

When it comes to Tools, Cutlery, Sporting Goods, Paints, Glass, Oils, Roofing, etc., Mr. Howlett has them.

Be sure to give him a call.

THE SOURCE OF BORAX.

The volcanic deposits on the east side of the Calico Mountains, at the edge of the Mohave Desert of California, include clays containing colemanite, a crystalline borate of lime.

Colemanite contains 50.9 per cent of boric acid, 27.2 per cent of lime, and 21.9 per cent of water. The deposits near the Calico Mountains are believed to have been formed by replacement of limy beds that were laid down locally during the evaporation of lake waters, at interavals between some of the great outbursts of volcanic ejecta which formed so large a part of the Tertiary deposits. The boric acid was undoubtedly derived from fresh volcanic materials and carried to its present position by underground waters. The deposits are in two principal beds, each 5 feet thick and about 50 feet apart. These beds have been mined to a depth of 500 feet. All the borax produced in the United States is obtained from California mines, mainly from Lang, north of Los Angeles, and Death Valley. The value of borate ores produced in 1915 was nearly $1,700,000. The borax is made by heating the pulverized colemanite with a solution of sodium carbonate, forming the soluble sodium borate, which crystallizes. (U. S. Geological Survey, Department of the Interior.)

NEW YORK'S GREAT BRIDGES.

The five giant spans of steel, which, like gargantuan fingers, clutch the two sides of East river, binding New York and Brooklyn together, cost America's metropolis half as much as the Panama canal cost the federal government. Three of them, says the National Geographic Magazine, are suspended from cables the wires of which, if placed end to end, would more than twice girdle the earth. If placed side by side these five great structures would provide a roadway as wide as the Washington monument is high, and if placed end to end they would make a great bridge over six miles long.

Across the Brooklyn bridge alone 125,000 surface cars travel every twenty-four hours, with other vehicular traffic in proportion.

EAT PLAIN AND WHOLESOME FOOD.

"Pray, Mr. Abernethy, what is the cure for gout?," was the question of an indolent and luxurious citizen.

"Live upon sixpence a day, and earn it," was the cogent reply.

John Abernethy, second son of a Scotch-Irish family, born April 3, 1764, a physician of rare discernment, a surgeon of great skill, a lecturer and teacher of dramatic magnetism, never said a better thing in his life. It is particularly apt in this country where the sin of overeating is far more common than the sin of overdrinking. Gluttony, always a fault, is all the more glaring in a land where a plentiful food supply permits it to be more general. The sallow, fat cheeks, the aching joints and irascible temper of the prosperous over-fed are far too common. Abernethy said to one such, the Duke of York, by the way, "Cut off the supplies as the Duke of Wellington did in his campaigns, and the enemy will leave the citadel."

Diet, however, is a really serious matter and many people suffer as much from dietary eccentricities and food fads as from actual disease. The average individual can eat good plain, wholesome food in moderation all his life without ever being aware that he has a digestive apparatus.. Starvation to cure a fancied ailment or to reduce an expansive waist line has shortened many lives, just an indiscretion in the opposite direction. Certain diseases do require a particular diet but this should be chosen by a physician of skill and not self prescribed. The self prescriber often has a fool for a patient.

Abernethy was married on January 9, 1800, to a lady whom he met at the house of a patient. A brief courtship was followed by a proposal by letter giving the lady a fortnight in which to make up her mind and deprecating any "dangling." He was not as temperate with regard to work as he was to food. He did not even interrupt his lectures for his wedding, and died at the age of 67, completely worn out, a victim of his gluttony for work.

NEW ROAD SYSTEM IN PERU.

The Peruvian Government has adopted a plan of organization for road building throughout the country, classifying all roads in four groups—national, departmental, provincial, and district. The roads in the first, or national group, according to the new road law published in El Peruano of November 30 are those that (1) connect the capitals of departments, (2) connect a department capital with ports equipped for maritime or river commerce, (3) connect one river port with another, (4) connect river ports with frontier zones, (5) connect different points on frontier zones.

The departmental roads are those that make the following connections: (1) Capitals of provinces, (2) a department capital with a province capital, (3) a department capital with a port, (4) a department capital with a port on the frontier zone, (5) a department capital with a port on a national road, (6) a department capital with a terminal station on a railway running from a seaport. The provincial roads unite the following points: (1) Capitals of districts, (2) district capitals with province or department capitals, (3) a district capital with a port, (4) a district capital with a port on the frontier zone, (5) a district capital with some point on a national or department road. The district roads are those which connect (1) different towns in a district, (2) towns of different districts, (3) towns of a district with the capital of a district, of a province, or of a department, (4) a town with a port, (5) a town with some point on the frontier zone, (6) a town with some point on a national, departmental, or provincial road.

Provision for Construction and Maintenance.

The National Government will have charge of the construction and maintenance of natioal roads, while other roads will be in charge of departmental, provincial, and district authorities To insure uniform and systematic surveys for the roads the Government will organize a staff of road engineers, to to be provided for in the annual budget. For the general cost of constructing and maintaining roads the Government will, until the plan is further developed, make an appropriation of 10,000 Peruvian pounds ($48,665) per year, beginning with the 1917 budget. In addition, departmental boards will assign 20 per cent of their revenues to this purpose, and property owners, manufacturers, and communities of natives will contribute labor in proportion to the benefit that they would receive indirectly from the roads. Among the duties of the Government surveyors will be the preparation of estimates of the labor required on every kilometer of road and the value of the property along the proposed road. Where necessary, land will be condemned to permit the building of bridges and grading of the road in accordance with the recommendations of the surveyors. The national and departmental roads, which will be constructed by contract, are to be 6 meters (18 feet 2.2 inches) wide, with 8 per cent maximum grade, to permit automobile traffic. All roads will be free to the public.

The thorough planning of the road system outlined in this law indicates that the Peruvian Government realizes the importance of a network of highways in a country where development is retarded by a scarcity of railway communication.

LATIN AMERICAN MERCHANTS TO RESUME TRADE RELATIONS WITH EUROPE.

Following abstract of Address by Hon. S. Rowe, Secretary General of the International High Commission, delivered at the Fifth Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States:

We are constantly speaking of the European War as laying the foundation of America's industrial and financial leadership. There is something almost naive in the widespread feeling that this remarkable expansion of our foreign trade will continue as a permanent asset of the country. If, on the other hand, we deal with facts rather than with fancy, it will not take us long to see that the progress that has been made in our Latin-American trade does not represent by any means a permanent part of our commercial expansion. In fact, there is a widespread feeling throughout Central and South America that American merchants and manufacturers are exploiting to the fullest extent the needs of Latin-American merchants, and that they are paying but little heed to the conditions that will arise immediately at the close of the European War.

During the last two years I have made two prolonged trips through the countries of South America and I could not help but be impressed with the deeply rooted feeling of irritation on the part of Latin-American merchants because of the fact that our own manufacturers were taking advantage of the fact that they could no longer secure the goods they wanted from some of their European sources, to exact from them not merely unusually high prices but to require of them other onerous conditions with reference to financial arrangements. Rightly or wrongly there was a distinct feeling that the United States was utilizing a momentary opportunity without attempting to lay the foundations for permanent commercial relations with the merchants of Latin-America.

Let us not delude ourselves with reference to what is going to happen immediately at the close of the European War. I found the Latin American merchant longing to resume his relations with the European manufacturers and particularly with the German manufacturers. In fact, he was looking forward to the close of the European War as a promise of emancipation from the exactions of the American producer.

I make this statement not so much with the view of casting any reflections on our American merchants, but to point out that if we are concerned, not so much with the utilization of a temporary advantage but rather with the establishment of a permanent and leading place in South American trade, we must lay the foundations far deeper than they are at present and of a character upon which the goodwill of the South American merchants can be developed. We must also have sufficient perspective, sufficient vision, sufficient insight and foresight to see that an important part of the structure that we are attempting to rear will be greater uniformity in commercial methods, greater uniformity in [illegible] rangements and the gradual removal of those irritating administrative regulations which are so often a real obstacle to the development of international trade.

It is to these purposes that the International High Commission has addressed itself. The direct outgrowth of the Pan-American Finanmial Conference of 1915, it represents as it were a permanent standing committee of the Conference; entrusted with the accomplishment of definite, practical purposes which will bring about greater unity of thought and action on the American Continent in matters relating to commercial methods, commercial law ad financial arrangements.

LET ALL SHOW RESPECT FOR THE NATIONAL ANTHEM.

Americans are a queer people, as those skilled foreign observers who dissect our national characteristics and analyze our souls in their flitting journeys of a week are wont to remark.

In the smaller phases of life we are not a polite Nation.

But in the larger things, where there are hungry women or suffering children, no Nation outdoes this in charity or good works.

And reversing a similar criticism, in big matters we are an intensely patriotic Nation. When the crisis comes Americans can be depended upon to abandon their plows or drop their pens; leave their desks or their work tables, to march boldly forth to fight for their country and their homes.

But on the surface, in the smaller things of life, we are not a patriotic people, although boastful about our resources, our productions, our scenery, and this, that and the other thing.

Moreover, in the refinements of veneration for the Nation that is ours, we are sadly deficient as a people. We have the soul, but lack the grace of expression.

And nothing is more illustrative of that than the deplorable indifference and even disrespect often shown when the National anthem is played or sung.

On suitable occasions, when "The Star Spangled Banner" should move every American to a glow of patriotic feeling, many fail to stand, remove their hats or to cease talking. Their attitude is one of broad sulkiness that their time should be fritted away by such a trifle.

The real patriotism is there deep in the breast, but the good manners are lacking to express it properly.

And bad manners, whether in patriotism or at table whether it be eating with a knife or standing covered during rendition of the national anthem—should be scorned by all.—Sacramento Bee.

MAY ENACT NEW ENGINEERING LAWS.

ANDERSON, Shasta Co., Cal.—That the present Legislature should enact a law that will empower the State Engineer to engage an inspector to look into all irrigation projects—both those proposed, and under actual construction—is the opinion of Thomas H. Means, consulting engineer on the Anderson-Cottonwood Irrigation District.

Engineer Means says that under the present conditions, the State Engineer has neither power nor funds to engage an inspector to look into irrigation projects. He contends that the Legislature should enact a law that will authorize the engagement of an inspector, and that the inspector should look into proposed irrigation projects, and also occasionally examine them while they are in course of construction.

Irrigation District Financing.

ANDERSON (Shasta Co.)—At a meeting of the newly elected directors, the committee-at-large and the Advisory Board of the Anderson-Cottonwood Irrigation District, held recently, a definite program was adopted that, it is believed, will meet the approval of every land owner in the district.

Will Inspect Ditches.

On February 19th, it is planned to have every land owner in the district meet at Redding, from where they will go over the entire system, from the dam at Redding to the last ditch below Cottonwood. The start will be made early in the morning and it is believed they can cover the entire district in one day. Lunch will be arranged for in Anderson.

With the party will go the district's Chief Engineer, who will explain in detail all the work that must be done to complete the project and his estimates of the cost. The main points of interest will be at the different stream crossings where siphons and flumes will have to be built.

These crossings seem to be one of the matters of which the district can not make head or tail. One engineer recommends fluming and another says siphon.

To Call Mass Meeting.

Following this trip, a mass meeting will be called and the amount of the next bond issue determined. As soon as a decision is reached work on a new issue will start.

In the meantime, the district will accept the assistance that has been offered by Herbert Flischacker, San Francisco banker.

CANAL TRAFFIC IN DECEMBER.

[Panama Canal Record.]

The cargo carried through the Panama Canal in December, 1916, aggregated 547,683 tons of 2,240 pounds. This amount exceeds the total for November, 1916, but does not equal the amount for October, the totals for these months being 519,043 and 647,893 tons, respectively. Of the December cargo 241,987 tons were carried from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, and 305,696 tons from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

The total net tonnage of the ships in December was 483,814, according to the rules for measurement for the Panama Canal—261,181 tons from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and 222,633 tons from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

The number of ships passing through the canal was 155, which number has been exceeded but once since the reopening of the canal—in October, 1916, when the number was 158. Of the December vessels 82 were bound from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and 73 from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

With respect to nationality, British ships led with 63, followed by: American, 37; Norwegian, 15; Chilean, 8; Peruvian, 7; Dutch, 6; Japanese, 5; Danish, 4; Swedish and Costa Rican, each 3; Spanish, 2; Cuban and Mexican, each 1.

The tolls earned in December amounted to $447,015. Of this sum $231,778 was from ships passing from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and $215,237 from ships passing from the Pacific to the Atlantic The tolls on ships in the United States coastwise trade amounted to $8,027,collected wholly from ships bound from the Pacific to the Atlantic, there being no tolls paid by coastwise vessels going in the opposite direction.

HOME INDUSTRY LEAGUE OF CALIFORNIA.

Plans for a more concerted effort among merchants and manufacturers to make goods "Made-in-California" better known both in this State and abroad, will be asked for from the individual members of the Home Industry League of California at the weekly luncheon to be held on Thursday, February 15th, at the Palace Hotel.

The success of the annual dinner of the League having broken all records, those in charge of the dinner will define their views on how many other popular functions can be staged, designed to educate California residents to a realization of how the State would prosper through preference being given to goods made or grown in California.

THE COMMERCIAL WOODS OF THE PHILIPPINES; THEIR PREPARATION AND USES.

By

E. E. Schneider.

The above is the title of Bulletin 14, the latest publication of the Philippine Bureau of Forestry. This bulletin is by far the most comprehensive work on the subject so far published and also, from the point of view of the wood-user, the most practical. It is a volume of 246 pages, exclusive of the indexes, and consists of five parts. Part 1 is a concise description of the forests and of lumbering conditions in the Islands; Part 2, a detailed discussion of the mechanical and physical properties and of the structure of wood; Part 3, a very full description of the various uses to which Philippine woods are or could be put, with numerous cross-references; Part 4, gives, in the least technical language possible, a description of the methods of identifying woods, and Part 5, which occupies more than half of the book, gives minute descriptions of over 360 Philippine woods, with very complete notes on their distribution, sizes, supply, uses, mechanical properties and durability, etc. In addition, there are three very complete indexes, one general, one of scientific names, and one of the official and local names of the woods.

Bulletin 14 is sold by the Bureau of Forestry at $1.00 U. S. Currency. Orders should be accompanied by a money order made out to "The Director of Forestry, Manila, Philippine Islands."

NATIONAL FOREST ENLARGED.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Acting under the authority of a special Act of Congress approved September 8, 1916, the President has, on recommendation of the Secretary of Agriculture, signed a proclamation adding approximately 50,000 acres to the Whitman National Forest, Oregon. The lands involved are situated on the divide between the John Day, Powder, and Burnt rivers, in east-central Oregon.

Over 4,000 acres consist of timber lands which were included in patented entries. As the result of suits brought by the United States, the patents for these entries were canceled by the courts because they were acquired through fraud or mistake, and the lands were returned to Government ownership. The canceled claims carry a total estimated stand of nearly 46,000,000 feet B. M. of timber.

Much of the other land included in the addition is privately owned. It consists largely of cut-over timberland, on which the timber growth is rapidly reproducing. One portion of the Act of Congress authorizing the addition provides especially for the exchange of Government timber for privately owned lands in the Whitman National Forest which may be chiefly valuable for the production of timber or the protection of streamflow. Several applications for exchanges of this character have already been submitted.

BIG INCREASE IN ALUMINUM.

[redacted] according to estimates [redacted] M. Hill of the U. S. Geological Survey of the Department of the Interior, was over 121,000,000 pounds. The estimates are based on [redacted] of the domestic production [redacted] and [redacted] of the imports for 9 months. This is an increase of more than 21 per cent over the consumption of 1915. These estimates do not include the consumption of secondary aluminum obtained from scrap materials, which is believed to have also increased.

OPPOSED TO MILITARY TRAINING IN THE SCHOOLS.

An organization calling itself the California Commission to Promote Physical Education has announced that it will support Assemblyman N. J. Prendergast's bill for compulsory physical training in the public schools of California.

The same commission also announces that it energetically will oppose all bills providing for any sort of military training in the schools.

However interesting this attitude of the Commission may be to its own members, it is doubtful if it will have much weight, one way or another, with the members of the Legislature or with The People of the State.

Extreme pacificists are not popular at this particular time, when the Nation faces the grave danger of war, and of going to war when it has neither the trained men, the guns and munitions, nor hardly anything needful for a conflict with a first class Power.

This particular Commission is nothing more than an extreme pacificist organization hiding behind the disguise of "physical training." It has as its chief object the defeat of any successful means of raising a sufficient army to guard this country.

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature by Senator Sharkey and Assemblyman Wishard, providing for compulsory military training of all boys in the high schools. Under this system, three hours a week would be devoted to drill, and two weeks in a camp of instruction during the Summer.

Under this measure the boys could be given the groundwork of military training, providing an excellent foundation in case the United States were to call for military training, as it should.

Objections has been made that any sort of military training should be done by the Federal Government, as in various European countries. The situation here, however, is different, in that our particular form of national government does not give the Federal authorities any control over our State public school system.

In Europe military training is founded upon physical education in the public schools. The same should be had here, and, as a step toward the future, military training should be given in the high schools.

[redacted] a time of danger [redacted] possibilities for the United States [redacted] time for serious and [redacted] It is no time to listen to the objections of eccentrics who would put their own peculiar theories and opinions into effect without regard to the perils that face the Nation.

But this State Commission, or whatever sort of an organization it may be, presumably takes itself more seriously than do the public. Its attitude is interesting but not necessarily formidable.

PAPER MILL FOR ABERDEEN.

ABERDEEN.—A paper mill plant to cost $1,000,000 for which all capital has been subscribed is guaranteed for South Aberdeen. The site has been purchased and construction work is to start at once. The mayor and council made the plant certain by voting to sell a water right which the company required for $8000, this completing the deal. The plant is to begin operations January 1, next.

ANTI-BOYCOTT LAW.

Prohibits Sympathetic Strikes and Secondary Boycotts.

The anti-boycott bill introduced at the present session of the California legislature by Senator Ballard of Los Angeles, and supported by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, is designed to make the sympathetic strike and the secondary boycott unlawful.

There is nothing the bill affecting the right of employees to strike or to maintain a primary boycott against their own employer, for the purpose of enforcing their demands relative to their own employment or to their own labor conditions. The secondary boycott and the sympathetic strike do not come within this exception, and therefore would be made unlawful by this act.

The Ballard Anti-Boycott bill is necessary if the State is to protect its citizens from wanton injury inflicted upon them by those who may be involved in an industrial dispute to which the citizens injured are not parties. It is for this reason that the line of distinction has been drawn between the direct strike and the sympathetic strike and the primary and secondary boycotts.

The direct strike and the primary boycott affect only the employer involved in the dispute. The secondary boycott and the sympathetic strike on the contrary tend to injure those who are not directly involved in the dispute. The primary boycott has been defined by the California Supreme Court as the right of employees to cease dealing by concerted action, either socially or by way of business, with their former employer.

The employees have the right by all legitimate means by fair publication and fair oral or written persuasion, to induce others interested in or sympathetic with their cause to withdraw their social intercourse and business patronage from this employer. This right is not sought to be interfered with.

But when the employees go further than this, and request of another that he withdraw his patronage from the former employer, and use the moral intimidation and coercion of threatening a like boycott against him if he refuse so to do, it is a case of secondary boycott. This secondary boycott has been declared illegal by the English courts, the Federal courts and by the courts of most of the States of America.

There is no justice in the use of the secondary boycott involving, as it does, strangers to the dispute and inflicting injury not only upon those against whom the secondary boycott is declared and maintained but, through injury to them, often affecting the general interests of the public and causing loss to them.

The industrial activities of a whole trade or of a whole community may be paralyzed through the use of the sympathetic strike or the secondary boycott, and the law today affords no relief. If the law is to maintain its boast that for every wrong there is a remedy, Senator Ballard's bill should be enacted into law.

FROM ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

I went into the office of a Landscape
Friend of mine,
And casually suggested that the times
are getting fine.
"They would be," he retorted, "if the
Architects would stop
Preparing plans for work which should be issued from my shop."

I hastened to an Architect and asked him to explain.
"Don't tell me more, my friend," said
he, "but hear my sad refrain:
Contractors now are drawing plans for work that we should do,
And architects with bank accounts are far between and few."

"Contractors, friend, are not to blame,"
said he whom next I saw.
"Material Men and Subs," he said—
"Their work is awful raw.
They quote to us their highest price,
then join us in a sob
When Building Records tell us that old
Day Work got the job."

A Sub then offered to explain this awful situation.
"I see no way," he said, "to cure this badly strained relation.
Contractors peddle bids we give, and yet they much deplore
When the Sheriff comes and neatly
tacks his sign upon our door."

Deep and long were the sighs that came from the Material Man.
"The boob who cuts the price," said he,
"Oh, if we only can.
Stop his mad career,—the money I could save
Would pay the national debt,—if I could only see his grave."

I thought these statements over, and decided that I'd quit.
Before someone decided that I was the man to hit;
The truth is, Builders All, that the place to best arrange
All your business troubles is the floor of the Exchange.

LARGEST STACK IN THE WORLD TO BE ERECTED.

TACOMA, Wash.—The Tacoma Smelting Co. has awarded the contract to the Alphons Custodis Construction Company, of New York and Colman Bldg., Seattle, for the erection of its huge smoke stack. The contract for the 3,000,000 brick for the structure was awarded some time ago to the Denny, Renton Clay & Coal Co. The stack will be the largest in the world, being 571 feet high and 25 feet wide at the top.

NEW LAWS ARE BEING ENFORCED FOR INSTALLATION OF GUARDS AROUND ELEVATOR MACHINERY, ETC., FOR PROTECTION OF PASSENGERS AND OPERATORS.

According to the new law, which went into effect on the 1st of the year, protection guards must now be placed under the elevator machinery when same is overhead to protect passengers. Also all grill work on the cars and doors must be protected by a fine wire mesh or solid partitions at least 3 feet above the floor, also all mirrors must be removed from all cars. All overhanging ledges at doors and shafts must be protected by a solid plate to protect passengers in the car from injury. All machinery in engine room must have protection guards around moving parts.

The counter weights in elevator pits must have metal guards at least 6 feet high.

There are many other points that we might mention, but it is hardly necessary.

Inspectors are now visiting all buildings and notifying owners of special requirements.

The C. J. Hillard Co., 19th and Minnesota, have established a special department to care for this class of work. Owners will find it to their advantage to get estimates from this firm before finally placing orders.

BUILDERS' EXCHANGE AND ASSOCIATION AMALGAMATED.

OAKLAND, Cal.—One of the best moves affecting the building industry has recently been accomplished in the combining of the Builders' Exchange and the Central Contractors' Association of Alameda County. This action was brought about by committees representing the boards of directors of both bodies, and has been the cause of much rejoicing among those interested in the building business. It is expected that a great deal of good will result from this alliance.

The enlarged body has gone to considerable expense fitting up the headquarters of the General Contractors' Association, 565 Sixteenth street, with offices and figuring booths to accommodate the increased membership.

It is said by the builders that never before in the history of the east bay cities have the architects' tables been so crowded with plans for the construction of large buildings.

NICKEL IN 1915.

The United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, now has available for distribution its annual statement on Nickel in 1915.

CHICO, Cal.—A verbal agreement has been reached between W. H. Pillsbury, garage man of this city, and the proprietors of the old City Hall, whereby the owners will construct a garage upon the removal of the hall. No decision as to the disposal of the present building has been arrived at.

VALLEJO, Cal.—It is reported in realty circles that as soon as the sewer work is completed in the Vallejo Annex Tract that a big building campaign will be started by the promoters of the subdivision to Vallejo, and as a result from $60,000 to $100,000 worth of improvements will be made to the eastern outskirts of town before the summer is over.

RENO, Nev.—A discussion of plans and approximate costs for surveying the water system of Reno took place recently between the City Council and a representative of a Kansas City firm.

It is the plan of the City Council to get estimates from several engineers on the cost of making a complete survey of Reno's water system. When this is done one of the engineers will be appointed by the Council to make a survey of the system with a view of the city taking over the entire plant.

If it is found that the city can take over the plant and conduct it at a profit then steps will probably be taken for municipal ownership.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The Bank of Italy purchased 20,000 worth of Folsom Sanitary District bonds, paying a premium of $950 for them. The only other bid was made by the California National Bank. J. P. Cox, J. Perazzo, J. A. Russi, Fred Stanton and O. J. Miller were the directors of the district authorizing the sale.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION EFFECTS BUILDING.

Changes in State Tenement House Act And Two New Acts Before State Legislature.

Three bills are pending in the legislature which will materially effect the building interests. These are the new State Tenement House Act, the Hotel and Lodging House Act and the Dwelling House Act. A brief outline of the bills with their proposed changes follows:

Tenement Houses Changes.

The size of courts are regulated by the size of the building and are not all one size as the law now provides. The height of frame tenement houses is limited to thirty-six feet or three stories. Where the basement is occupied it will class as a story. Side yards are provided for instead of back yards but the space at the rear of tenements must never be less than seven feet from the ground. Fire escapes must open directly from hall ways, and there must be two means of egress from every floor. Hallways must be semi-fireproof, and in places where automobiles are stores the compartment must be fireproof.

Mosquito screening of sixteen mesh to the inch must be placed on each door and window or other opening. In tenements of more than eight families there must be a housekeeper, janitor or someone living on the premises to be responsible for sanitation, heat and light. Bedding must be stored in dry, vermin free rooms. Dark rooms must be painted or papered in light colors. Building Inspectors or any city officials charged with enforcing the bill will appeal directly to the Superior Court. The present provision requiring the filing of plans in duplicate before construction can be commenced is not amended nor changed in the proposed law.

Hotel Bill.

The hotel bill (S. B. 433) is practically a new measure. The present act is regarded as only an entering wedge, but the proposed new law will cover all subjects and prescribe regulations similar to the Tenement House Act but applicable to hotels.

Outside Rooms Demanded.

One of its important provisions is that all rooms shall be outside, opening upon streets or courts. Height of frame hotels and plumbing are regulated. The bill applies to dormitories as well as to hotels. Court will vary with the size of the structure, and combination buildings will be made to conform to the regulations prescribed for full hotel buildings. Safety and sanitation is given especial attention.

Dwelling House Bill.

The dwelling House Bill (S. B. 432) regulates the construction, reconstruction, moving, altering, maintenance, use and occupancy of dwelling houses in every part of the State. A few of the regulations which must be followed in building dwellings if this bill becomes a law are:

Substantial construction so as to exclude dampness. Cellar living prohibited. No basement living quarters shall be used where the ceiling is not seven feet or more above the ground. All walls, floors or ceilings of such dwelling places shall be damp-proof and water-proof. Air space under the lower floor of six inches or more. No room of less than ninety square feet shall be built.

Height of Rooms.

Rooms must be at least seven feet and eight feet in height. Every water-closet compartment shall not be less than thirty-six inches in width, and bath rooms shall not be less than seven feet six inches in width. Every rooms must have a window opening directly upon a street or unoccupied area containing at least thirty-six square feet. There are numerous regulations affecting plumbing, sanitation and ventilation.

Bill for Architects.

Assembly Bill 1126 provides for the examination and licensing of architects; the organization of a State Board of Architecture of seven members to examine and license architects and to provide for safety in building, alteration and repair.

Counterbalance Stairs.

Senate Bill 440 provides that where buildings are required to have fire-escapes they shall also be equipped with counterbalance stairways. The examination and certification of plumbers is provided for in Senate Bill 100. The bill also would restrict the employment upon any public work of plumbers so licensed. Senate Bill 963 provides that all State brick, stone, terra cotta or concrete work done in the future shall be inspected by a State Masonary Inspector before accepted by the State. Senate Bill No. 6 provides that separate bids be asked on public buildings. One to cover the structure itself and other the plumbing.

Senate Bill No. 736

AN ACT TO MAKE IT UNLAWFUL TO COMBINE TO PREVENT ANY INDIVIDUAL FROM LEARNING A TRADE.

Senate Bill No. 736 introduced by Senator Rominger of Long Beach, Cal., is of special interest to any man desiring to learn a trade.

Here is a copy of the bill:

AN ACT.

TO ADD A NEW SECTION TO THE PENAL CODE, TO BE NUMBERED SIX HUNDRED FIFTY-THREE f, RELATING TO THE RESTRICTING OF THE NUMBER OF INDIVIDUALS WHO MAY LEARN A TRADE.

The People of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code to be numbered six hundred fifty-three f and to read as follows:

653f. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, association of persons, combination of persons, or body of persons to prevent, attempt to prevent, or combine to prevent, any individual from learning, or from becoming an apprentice for the purpose of learning, any useful and lawful trade; or perform any act which shall result in restricting the number of individuals who may learn or become apprenticed for said purpose; or in any way interfere with the enrollment as an apprentice, or the employment of any individual desiring to learn or acquire a useful and lawful trade. Any one violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

The following letter from Grant Fee, the well known builder, hits the nail on the head.

San Francisco, Cal, Jan. 29, 1917.
Hon. Joseph A. Rominger,
Long Beach, California.
Dear Sir:—

I am writing to congratulate you on your introduction in the California State Senate of the Act relating to the restriction of individuals who may learn a trade. I am heartily in sympathy with this Act and will cooperate with whatever influence I may have toward its successful passage.

The Vocational trades being taught in the schools is a step in the right direction and fair thinking people should endorse your Bill whereby this vocational training may be continued effectively in practical work.

Not every boy or girl is fitted by temperament or inclination to do clerical work, and without something appealing for the active mind and body of the growing youth the uncurbed passions and untrained possibilities tend toward increasing the inmates of our houses of correction. Keep the youngsters occupied with some useful labor that interests them and less money will be needed to be appropriated for our prisons, and more useful citizens will be an honor to themselves and the community.

Again wishing you success in getting this Bill through the Legislature, I am

Yours very truly,
GRANT FEE.

UKIAH, Cal.—The effort of the Ukiah high school district trustees to bond the district for $60,000 for a new building was defeated in the election held last Saturday. The vote was 109 for 522 against it. There were but 931 votes cast out of a [illegible] in the district.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—Another new sawmill industry is announced for Klamath country this season. Edward Sedge of the mercantile firm of Sedge & Son of Dairy, will start a new mill in the timber adjoining Swan Lake valley seven miles northeast of Klamath Falls. The new mill will have a daily capacity of 20,000 feet and it is the intention to cut two million feet this year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Robert E. Strahorn, promoter of the Oregon California and Eastern Railroad, has announced that four small cities in his territory have donated and have proposed donations in the total amount of $1,000,000 in rights of way and terminal sites and in municipal bond issues for the benefit of the proposed railroad.

Strahorn says it will take $7,000,000 to construct the lines, and that after the war he proposes to raise the amount by sale of the securities. It will be built as an independent line. He insists he has no understanding with any of the transcontinental lines.

Strahorn says that all the 400 miles of the original project have been surveyed, as well as the 150 miles in the Lakeview-Flanigan branch, and that nearly all the rights of way and terminal grounds have been secured.

REDDING, Shasta Co., Cal.—Lawrence Gardella, of Oroville, who has been operating a dredger on land on Clear Creek, four miles below Redding, for two years, announces he will build two more dredgers this season and expects to have them in operation by November.

Gardella's new dredgers will be the kind that will deposit boulders on the bottom and soil on top in an effort to save the land for agricultural purposes. Two machines of this type are now being used by the Natomas Consolidated of California at Folsom.

NAPA, Napa Co., Cal.—Supervisor Thomas Maxwell has announced that the State Highway Commission will in the near future begin repairing the road between Napa limits and Greenwood Hill, a distance of about six miles.

With the road between Napa and Greenwood's improved, the route to Cordelia will be greatly improved.

GRENADA, Siskiyou Co., Cal.—Announcement is made that ground has been broken for the erection of a large building to house a bank, store and Post Office.

D Perozzi of Ashland has made arrangements for the erection of a creamery. This town is being built up by A. L. Harlow and associates as an irrigation district town.

YUBA CITY, Sutter Co., Cal.—Chester Cole, Chico architect, has been chosen by the Supervisors to arrange for the construction of the $20,000 County Hospital provided for through a bond issue voted at the election of last November. Plans will be advertised for at once.

The new hospital will be erected on the site of the present hospital north of Yuba City, near the Feather River. It has been decided to handle the sewage problem through septic tanks.

CHICO, Butte Co., Cal.—Theodore A. Hartt, a Cohasset merchant, is making preparations for the accommodations of a summer colony at Cohasset this year.

Hartt will erect twelve or more cottages in the pines near by and will build more if occasion warrants it. He will run a daily stage line from Chico to Cohasset.

SANTA ROSA, Sonoma Co., Cal.—The Board of Supervisors of Sonoma county Friday met with the Board of Supervisors of Marin county at San Antone creek, the dividing line between the counties of Sonoma and Marin, and the matter of erecting a joint bridge was discussed and agreed upon.

The structure will greatly benefit travel.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Henry C. Smith has filed suit in the Superior Court against the Galt Union High School District and its former Trustees, F. C. Hauschildt, C. Adams, E. H. Barker, A. B. Forrester and C. A. Bolton, for the recovery of half of the architect's fee of $2,439, paid C. H. Russell.

Smith claims that Russell caused his name to be destroyed from the plans and that Russell fraudulently caused the Board to pay all of the money to him when he, as his partner, should only have received half of the amount.

CHICO, Butte Co., Cal.—The old town hall of Chico, familiarly known as old "1872," with its forty-five years of historic associations, will soon be a thing of the past, its owners selling it outright to C. L. Lyons at a very low figure. The work of tearing down has already begun.

The old frame building, standing on one of the choicest lots on Main street, will be replaced by a one-story concrete garage building, 66x132 feet, to be occupied by W. H. Pillsbury of the Studebaker agency.

The owners of the property are Henry Haile, John W. Konning and Mrs. Lettie Miller.

VALLEJO, Cal.—Building permits have been recently issued to the following: To D. J. Beasley, who recently purchased the old Toothaker residence at 1110 Sutter street who purposes to convert this eight-room dwelling into four three-room apartments; to W. Johnson, who is to erect a four-room bungalow at 315 Butte street, and to Exline and Allen, who are to improve their property at 640-642 Pennsylvania street by the erection of two four-room cottages.

OROVILLE, Butte Co., Cal.—Southern California capital is interested in an irrigation project involving thousands of acres of foothill land northeast of Oroville. So declares F. F. Ford of this city, who has returned from San Diego, and who says that plans are nearly complete.

The project will include a ditch system extending from one mile south of Las Plumas along the Feather River to Table Mountain lands belonging to R. W. Campbell and others. Nearly all of the rights of way have been obtained and some of the lands bonded.

The first unit will irrigate 3,000 acres and $40,000 will be expended upon it. After the water has been brought to the land the latter will be subdivided. It is the intention to plant oranges and olives.

GOVERNMENT WORK & SUPPLIES.

Purchase of War Materials.

Information has been erroneously circulated from Washington — to the embarrassment of the military-naval authorities and the annoyance of manufacturers and dealers—to the effect that the government is in the market for vast quantities of supplies which will be necessary in the event of war.

The crisis through which this country is passing, of course, is not ignored by those responsible for "preparedness" and for having the armed forces of the nation in readiness for whatever emergency may finally and suddenly confront it. The bureau of officers of the War and Navy Departments have prepared estimates of cost for the varied assortment of material in the volume necessary to meet the demands of the country engaged in the conduct of a war.

Beyond this nothing has been done and nothing will be done until war is unavoidable. There will be no actual purchases of material which anticipates hostilities, but everything that can be done in the War and Navy Departments so that the machinery of acquisition can be put into motion as soon as the President sends to Congress a request for an emergency appropriation. This is likely to be made by Congress in a lump sum without restriction on its expenditure, which will be within the discretion of the President.

Some purchases are being made in the War and Navy Departments in anticipation of the enactment of the regular Army and Navy appropriation bills which are now pending in Congress. This is merely to save time in making the contracts to meet the needs of the regular establishment. Thus, during the past week bids have been called for, to be opened under the quartermaster general of the Army on February 23, for tentage material and on March 5 for clothing, etc. The aggregate cost of the material embraced in these schedules is about $15,000,000, but this is on account of the appropriation for that material for the regular Army during the fiscal year beginning on July 1. The material, of course would be available for use in an emergency which may transpire at any time.

The same condition prevails in the Navy Department, where bids are being invited for certain articles, also in anticipation of the needs of the next fiscal year.

As soon as war is known to be inevitable the military-naval authorities will arrange for the purchase of the material necessary for the naval reserves which will be called into service and the expansion of the Navy by the addition of merchant vessels and, under the War Department, the creation of an army of one million men, which will be accomplished by bringing the regular Army up to the authorized strength contemplated by the five annual increments provided for in the act of June 3, the increase of the numerical strength of the national guard to its maximum authorized strength and the creation of a volunteer army of 500,000 men.

In the meantime and until hostilities are more of a certainty than they appear at this writing, manufacturers and dealers should not get excited over the reports from Washington of extraordinary activity on the part of the purchasing officers of the War and Navy Departments.

COST FINDING IN THE PAINTING BUSINESS.

"Cost finding with reasonable accuracy is not as difficult as is generally supposed, and it can be practiced without great expense," the International Association of Master House Painters and Decorators of the United States and Canada was told at its annual convention at New Haven, Conn., recently by Special Agent Walter B. Palmer, of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. "If there is some additional expense for keeping cost-finding records, which is not probable in the case of the small contractor," he added, "it will be more than offset by the insurance against inaccurate computations in bidding."

Mr. Palmer, in his address, discussed in detail the requirements of the business represented by the members of the convention, and said that until the industry adopted a uniform cost-finding system, it would suffer the evil results of wild, reckless bidding. He urged the master painters and decorators of America to keep pace with the forward movement.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The pay roll of the Southern Pacific Company's shops in this city for 1917 will be greater, probably, than for any previous year in the company's history. This is because of the fact that 2,000 freight cars are to be built here during the next six or eight months.

The preliminary work on this big task is already under way. The car shops are being re-arranged, specifications are being drawn, patterns are being made, etc.

The cost of these new cars is to be $1,800 and the total investment in this order will be $3,600,000. Most of this will be expended for labor and will be disbursed in this city.

The company is having the cars constructed here as a matter of economy. It has been ascertained that by constructing them here a saving of 15 per cent can be made, or a total of more than half a million dollars on the order.

This big order will keep the local shops humming for many months.

BLISS AND FAVILLE WIN STATE COMPETITION.

Jury Announces Selection of Architects For Million Dollar Building In Civic Center.

Architects Bliss & Faville, Balboa Bldg., have been selected as the architects for the State Building, a $1,000,000 structure, to be erected in the Civic Center. An announcement of the decision of the jury in the second stage of the competition was made Thursday morning.

In speaking of the plans Mr. Faville said:

The Civic Center is dominated by the City Hall and dome. The scheme is further developed by the Auditorium on one side. The building opposite the Auditorium, the State Building, should have the same bulk as the Auditorium.

Dignity Expressed.

The State is expressed best in its dignity by a building as large in its proportions as the programme would admit. The small amount of money and the many requirements make it necessary that the plan should cover just as small an area as possible, so that the costly foundations and roof coverings would be as small as possible. It should be as many stories high as the programme allows, which means an economy in wall surface of costly granite.

The building will be of that period of the Italian Renaissance in which the architects often used a high base line. Therefore the three lower stories are of plain treatment. Above this [illegible] forms a foil to the lower part. The motive con[illegible] a [illegible] Zone the arch in the [illegible] The [illegible] between [illegible] pierced with smaller windows. CONSTRUCTION WORK ABROAD

PANAMA.

Improvements in Colon.

The building division of the Panama Canal is now engaged in the erection of permanent buildings for officers' quarters and other purposes for the Coast Artillery at Fort De Lesseps, near the Hotel Washington, in Colon. To provide sites for the new structures it was necessary to take over and remove a number of old buildings, to do some filling in along the shore, and to construct a short sea wall. Work is now progressing on two houses for commanding officers, three for captains, and three for noncommissioned officers. As early as possible the construction of a large building for headquarters, barracks, and storeroom will be undertaken. These two-story buildings, which will be in the best style of reinforced concrete construction, will provide comfortabe quarters for the officers and their families, and also add to the looks of that part of the city of colon. The estimated cost of these nine buildings ih $200,000.

At Fort Sherman, situated at Toro Point, and at Fort Randolph at Margarita Point, both being in the Canal Zone and near Colon, frame buildings of the approved army type of construction are being erected for officers' quarters and other purposes; at Fort Sherman, 30 buildings at an estiimated cost of $260,000; and at Fort Randolph, 8 buildings at a cost of $85,000.

The city of Colon is expending $60,000 in street improvements. The principal streets that were macadamized some years ago are now being laid with concrete.

BENICIA, Solano Co., Cal.—An addition to Fish and Westerzerg's garage will be made by James Clyne, owner of the building, to give more room for machines. The new addition will be 25x100 feet.

The front of the garage will be rebuilt and plastered also. The contract has been let to B. Coleman.

CARBONDALE, Amador Co., Cal.—This place is to have a sand and clay plant. Dittell and Company have leased the clay and sand tracks belonging to F. Clark & Son of that town and have made a contract with the Illinois Pacific Glass Company of San Francisco to ship 1,000 tons of clay daily.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal.— Bakersfield Canning Company has been permitted to issue 5,000 shares to E. J. Martin and R. H. Swartz in exchange for the property and assets of the canning business conducted by them, to issue 2,000 shares to W. H. Hill and C. W. Barlow for services, and to sell 18,000 shares at par, $1 per share, net to the company, the proceeds to be used for enlarging the plant and installing additional machinery.

SENDING SMALL PARCELS TO AUSTRALIA.

SYDNEY, New South Wales.—Better and cheaper parcel-post and express service from the United States to Australia would facilitate the forwarding of small packages and would increase business through reaching new customers. The majority of persons forwarding parcel-post packages from the United States to Australia, with charges prepaid, do not realize that the consignees in Australia are obliged to pay a surtax of 6 cents a pound.

Express companies sending out small packages from the United States frequently have their Australian agents make clearance for a large number of packages collectively in order to save the consignee the expense of making separate entries for each parcel. While this procedure lowers the charge on each package, it also results in delay. Collective entries are not made until each consignee is informed, which frequently means that the consignees do not receive their packages for two weeks or more after arrival.

Before making any shipments of small packages to Australia American firms should carefully study the relative cost and possible delay in delivery through the parcel post and by express companies and adopt the method that will be least expensive and most expeditious.

[The subject of postage, parcel post, and express service is discussed by Commercial Attache Philip B. Kennedy in a monograph, "Exporting to Australia," issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce as Miscellaneous Series No. 45. Copies of this bulletin may be obtained from any of the branch offices of the Bureau or from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.; price, 5 cents.]

MAMMOTH HOTEL FOR NEW YORK.

The Hotel Commonwealth, soon to be erected in the Times Square district of New York, will be equipped throughout with the Campbell Solid Metal Windows, manufactured by the Harry E. Campbell Company. These windows are different from any other in the market today, having a patented feature which leaves no chain or pulley exposed.

This contract will be one of the largest of the kind ever made, for the Commonwealth will be the greatest hotel in the world, occupying an entire block-front in the heart of New York, rising 23 stories and containing 2500 rooms. Costing a total of $15,000,000 it will be owned and operated by a vertiable army of shareholders, each of whom may subscribe to from one to ten share of stock, ten shares being the limit to one person. With approximately 100,000 men and women throughout the country as patrons, the Commonwealth should be crowded from the moment its doors are thrown open for business, its projectors believe.

In addition to dividends upon their investment and the rebates upon all expenditures for food and lodging, shareholders in the great hostelry have privileges of the luxurious club such as gymnasium, swimming-pool, indoor golf, tennis, squash, reading, smoking and lounging rooms, free. They will also receive material discounts upon purchases at New York stores through the Commonwealth shopping bureau.

The plan is unique in two respects. It is founded upon co-operation, thousands of shareholders reaping the profit that usually go to a few owners. It also merges hotel and club life, with all the privileges of both, at cost less than that usually attached to either. W. J. Hoggson is to be the builder of the Commonwealth, H. L. Merry, manager. Charles H. Ingersoll, the watch manufacturer, is president of the corporation.

FIRE EQUIPMENT BIDS WANTED.

TRACY, San Joaquin Co., Cal.—Bids are being taken by City Clerk Geo. L. Frerichs for furnishing the city of Tracy with one motor driven combination chemical engine and hose car, with pump, ladder and other equipment. Bids close March 1st at 8 P. M. Further information may be had from the City Clerk at Tracy.

SCHUMACHER WALL BOARD.

The Schumacher Wall Board Company are pleased to announce that they have appointed the Keyhold Lath Company, of San Francisco, general distributors and factory representatives.

This remarkable wall board needs no introduction, as it has been sold on the Pacific Coast for sometime. Its composition is a gypsum base with a magnesite and fibre filler, making it highly fire resistant, as has been shown in many successful official fire tests. This board may therefore be properly designated as a plaster wall board, differing from the wood and paper pulp boards, which are liable to warp and buckle by climatic changes.

The Schumacher Wall Board is as far as is known, the only board of its type made in sheets up to twelve feet in length, thereby reaching from floor to ceiling, in ordinary buildings, and thus eliminating all horizontal joints. The boards are made in widths 32 inches and 48 inches, and as noted above, in lengths up to twelve feet. It is easy to cut and fit, thereby creating no waste and may be applied in any building, in any location, at all seasons, without plastering, the joints may be pointed and the board painted, tinted, papered or left in the natural finish. It is valuable particularly as a non-conductor of sound, heat and electricity.

Ample stock of all sizes will be carried in San Francisco for the convenience of users in this territory, and particulars and samples may be had at the office of the Keyhold Lath Company, 255 Monadnock Building, San Francisco, Telephone Douglas 3472.

CONCRETE FENCE POSTS AND FENCES.

One of the small uses in railroad work to which concrete is especially adapted is for fence posts and also concrete fences.

Concrete posts for wire right-of-way fences are of greater strength and more pleasing in appearance than wooden posts, and besides this they are not destroyed by fire and decay. Nowadays, with many kinds of patented and unpatented post molds on the market, good concrete posts can be made of a woven wire fence with concrete post 20 ft. centers, built posts. The cost of a 7 ft. concrete post ranges from 15 to 25 cents, depending on type and local conditions. The cost of a woven wire fence with concrete posts 20 ft. centers built by the Long Island [illegible] greatly that of ornamental iron fences, [illegible] are very much [illegible] permanent.

Railroads are using concrete fence posts in greater numbers and the time will soon come when wooden fence posts will be used very little, especially in populous districts. — Western Canada Contractor.

SAFETY NETS FOR FALLING WORKMEN.

The Safety Department of the Industrial Accident Commission has been responsible for the introduction of safety nets in San Francisco for buildings under the course of construction. These nets are used in some of the large Eastern cities and there are European countries that require a similar safety precaution. It is intended to secure the co-operation of California's building contractors in order that the safety nets may come into general use.

It has been found that the law is impracticable that calls for the temporary flooring of all buildings under construction. High balconies, galleries, arch-trusses of theatres, auditoriums, churches, armory buildings, railroad train-sheds, towers, viaducts, bridges, domes and cupolas on which men are engaged are not safe in case men fall. The distance to the floor is too far. The safety net supplies the need. A man falling many feet into a net is uninjured. The cost of the net is nominal and it is easily adjusted and removed. It can be readily transported from one job to another.

The safety nets are similar in character to those employed by fire departments in some of our large cities to catch persons jumping from blazing windows. Circus performers are protected in like manner.

Safety nets are in use for the protection of structural steel workers employed on the erection of the California Theatre at Market and Fourth streets, San Francisco. The four nets cost $60 each. They are the first used west of Chicago.

The need of these safety nets is best illustrated by California's experience in 1915. In the building industry 15 men lost their lives—10 of these men fell to death and 5 were struck by falling objects. There were 91 permanent injuries. The temporary injuries numbered 1,447. The installation of safety nets would have affected the seriousness of these 1,553 deaths and injuries.

A STILL LOWER TYPHOID RATE.

In 1915 the California State Board of Health declared its intention to reduce the typhoid fever death rate from 13.6 per 100,000 population (the rate for the year 1914) to 9.6 per 100,000 population in 1918. As a matter of fact, however, this declaration was nearly fulfilled in the year 1915, when the rate was reduced to 9.7 per 100,000 population. And now, the typhoid death rate for 1916 is 7.1 per [illegible] population.

lower than the [illegible] it would be in 1918. If the methods employed in typhoid fever control are continued and if the same co-operation of the people of California is received, the Board hopes to reduce the typhoid death rate to a point below 5.0 per 100,000 population in 1918.

This may be accomplished through the prevention of the sewage pollution of public and private water supplies; the insurance of safe milk supplies through the pasteurization and inspection provisions of the state milk law; investigation of outbreaks of typhoid fever, determining and removing their sources; manufacture and distribution to physicians of typhoid vaccine; inspection of hotels, eating places, summer resorts, and surroundings, correcting insanitary conditions that may be present; enforcement of laws and of the Board's regulations for the prevention of typhoid fever; and by education in the prevention of typhoid fever.

If the high rate of 1906, 32.2 per 100,000 population, had prevailed in 1916, there would have been 950 deaths from this disease. There were but 208 typhoid deaths in 1916, however.

In order to secure these results, it is necessary that the California State Board of Health shall have the active support of health officers, physicians and citizens. All of the common rules of saintation, particularly as related to sewage disposal, water and milk supplies, must be rigidly observed. The regulations of the Board for the prevention of typhoid fever should be carefully followed by physicians and health officers. With such co-operation, California may soon have one of the lowest, if not the very lowest typhoid death rate of any state.

SANTA CLARA COUNTY GETS FIRST OF HOME INDUSTRY SHOWS; SACRAMENTO FOLLOWS.

By Chauncey McGovern.

Santa Clara County has won out in being selected by the Home Industry League of California as the first of the important counties of the State where the League will send a great "traveling" exhibit of the products of the State, grown and manufactured.

"In accordance with this decision of the League," said Executive Secretary Charles R. Thorburn, "there will be held at San Jose from April 13th to April 22nd, the biggest thing in the way of a 'Home-Industry' show which has yet been pulled off anywhere in the State outside of San Francisco.

"After the exposition closes at San Jose it will be moved to Sacramento where it will hold forth from May 4th to May 13th."

Every factory-owner in California is being invited by the League to participate, whether a member of its organization or not. Special effort will be made to have as many of the factory-owners as possible furnish what is known as "working demonstrations,"—such as the actual picking of cotton from Imperial Valley, with its "ginning" and spinning into a bolt of cloth ready for the dressmaker; and the making of California bungalows out of California materials exclusively.

One feature of the show in contemplation is to have the prize winning "live models" of the League's "Animated Revue of the Progress of California Products, grown and manufactured, either MADE or MAID" put on their prize-winning pageants every night of the stay in San Jose of the "rotating" exposition.

State's Products to be Made Known.

Executive Secretary Thorburn states that the Home Industry League expects to surprise the general public by the expositions, which have the aim of educating the people of the State into realization of how great are the State's resources that are now being "commercialized," not only with the view of inducing more outside capital to come to California to start additional factories, but to popularize the buying by people of the State of goods grown or manufactured in California.

It is pointed out by the League that residents of the State are so little informed of the State's industrial progress that many Californians send East for their soap and shoes, for example, while the United States government is sending all the way from Washington for shoes and soap to be delivered to New York, Boston, and Newport News—thus proving that items of California manufacture are undergoing the lack of appreciation which the Bible tells is peculiar to a prophet who does not stay at home.

LARGE IRRIGATION PROJECT PLANNED.

MADERA, Madera Co., Cal.—The cost of the proposed Madera Irrigation System, to impound the flood waters of the San Joaquin river in the bed of Fine Gold Creek, will be computed in about three weeks by Frank Clair and P. M. Stafford, the engineers who have just completed the survey. The cost will run into millions.

A diversion dam across the San Joaquin river would be built near the mouth of Fine Gold Creek. Three reservoirs are to be built. One dam, 900' long and 228' high is to be built at Standard Mill. It will back water for five miles and hold 100,000 acre feet. Another, at the Old Henrietta mine will be 1,042' long, 367' high and impound 250,000 acre feet. The third dam will be at Armstrong, and will hold about 50,000 acre feet. Water is to be diverted from the Lower North Fork through a canal and tunnels to the upper dams. Water was formerly brought down this way to a mine. A system of canals will distribute the water to the plains where 400,000 acres are available for irrigation.

SAN FRANCISCO FIRM EXPANDS ITS ORIENTAL BUSINESS.

Getz Bros., & Co., of San Francisco, haves organized a new company to handle their business in the Orient. The name of this new corporation is Getz Bros. & Co. of the Orient (Ltd.) It will conduct a general export and import business in the Orient, inaugurating branch offices in all of the important ports.

Getz Bros. & Co., are among the oldest exporting houses in San Francisco, having been established since 1871. They have maintained a constantly expanding branch in Shanghai for many years, and they have also a branch in Hongkong.

CHILEAN FIRMS VIEWS OF AMERICAN EXPORT METHODS.

The Antofagasta consulate has recently received from a local firm a copy of the circular letter quoted below. In this circular are set forth some of the difficulties that have been encountered by this and other Chilean importers in doing business with American houses.

Some Difficulties Encountered by South American Firms Desiring to Establish Permanent Importing Business With North American Manufacturers and Exporters.

(1) Lack of cheap freights and regular and frequent steamship connections.—Sailing vessels carrying the American flag could easily find paying return freights with nitrate cargoes, contributing to open competition and thus lowering the rates.

(2) Unsatisfactory means for consigning shipping documents and discount of banking values.—North American conditions for sale are, generally: Irrevocable credit in United States banks in favor of the manufacturer or exporter, deposited at the time of placing the order; 25 per cent with order, balance against documents; cash against documents at port of shipment; or in special cases when the firm is well known, 30 days after receipt of documents consigned to a bank or steamship agent in this country. European conditions used to be 30, 60, or 90 days' sight draft accepted on presentation of documents after arrival of goods at port of destination.

The establishment of branches of American banking institution would help North American exporters to obtain a better idea of the financial standing of customers in South America, and hence to offer more favorable terms.

(3) Long and uncertain deliveries.—We understand that under prevailing circumstances many manufacturers, especially in machinery and steel and iron products, can not avoid delay in their deliveries. Nevertheless, anything that could be done in the way of shortening the dates would be desirable.

(4) Goods forwarded to South America have proved on some occasions to be inferior to quality offered.—It is a well-known fact that the South American markets have been looked upon as not sound, or at least of no interest, by the great majority of North American exporters. They have considered Europe and Asia far better consumers and more worth trading with. We are sorry to say that this disinterestedness has made it possible for some unscrupulous exporters to send to this country goods inferior in quality in every respect to the kind offered. Fortunately, these have been exceptional cases, but they have been frequent enough to spread the idea that North American manufacturers could not be relied upon. Against this we must fight, knowing as we do that American products in many lines, such as tools, railway supplies, and mineral oils, are the best obtainable. Therefore, we are anxious to see all existing petty difficulties cleared away and hope to find the same desires among the North American firms we are approaching, so as to mutually contribute toward building up a straightforward and lasting commercial intercourse.

These circumstances have left the field open to European import in South America. Liberal selling terms, a knowledge of the requirements and financial capacities of their customers obtained by means of their selling or banking agents, and a quick adaptation to customs and needs of the trade have given European manufacturers a chance to thoroughly penetrate these markets, excluding all other competitors. The present war has changed this state of affairs, and nowadays North and South American look upon each other as the natural sources for their supply and consumption, a thing they should have done long before.

(5) Prices usually higher than European.—We do not refer to the actual prices corresponding to abnormal markets, but to those given to use before the outbreak of war. We understand that North American products are higher in price, owing to higher salaries, higher interest rates, and higher freights. We think that the first two conditions will be equalled and perhaps overbalanced as compared with European when the war is over. The third is likely to decrease very soon in view of the fact that several new steamship lines have been started recently in the United States to run between North and South America.

(6) No standing quotations.—Another factor due to the war and the consequent uncertainty of markets is the practice adopted by American firms to quote prices "subject to change without notice." This is certainly a wise policy for their own security, but it leaves the importer without a basis upon which to work out his calculations of cost and enhance his business chances, especially when it is necessary to compete with local and foreign prices. At least a certain period should be allowed during which quotations are held firm and any changes are duly communicated.

(7) Careless packing and marking; incomplete details on shipping documents.—On many occasions cases containing American goods arrive here smashed, or with numbers and marks illegible. It has also been noted at the time of dispatch from the custom-house that trouble arises from the failure to give complete details on shipping documents.

(8) Wrong idea in the United States that Americans from the South are not "up to business" in the way the Americans from the North understand it.—It is not rightly appreciated that local business routine differs in some instances from a Nort American point of view, and this should always be borne in mind. Nevertheless, a perfectly correct and satisfactory intercourse of commercial transactions could be established.

When some of these difficulties are done away with we know of many firms in this country which would rank among the best customers in the branches of North American manufacture. We trust that our views, approved of by most of our fellow business men here, will be looked upon as a frank and honest exposition of the prevailing state of affairs and a sincere desire to get in close connection with United States exporters, clearing away at the same time all hitherto existing obstacles with a view of mutual benefit.

It is the purpose of the Antofagasta firm to inclose one of these circulars with each first letter written to American manufacturers or exporters. This firm is just beginning to enter the general mercantile trade, adding this feature to its former business of representation of nitrate oficinas. Possibly older concerns which have had connections with American house for years would not have experienced the same difficulties.

DRAINAGE CONFERENCE.

URBANA, Illinois.—The second Annual Drainage Conference of the University of Illinois is to be held March 13-15, 1917.

Engineers, drainage officials, contractors, public officials, land-owners, and business men from all parts of the state will be in attendance to consider such important subjects as the reclamation of swamp and overflowed lands, flood control, and the conservation of the soil.

The subject of land reclamation in Illinois is one of greater importance than is generally supposed. Although some three million acres of uplands have been drained, there remain great overflowed areas of rich lowlands along the rivers, the aggregate extent of which is greater than that of Holland and the reclamation of which would add $150,000,000 to the land values of the state.

The conference to be held at Urbana will have for its purpose the stimulation of greater interest in this problem. The speakers will be engineers and public officials of prominence and information regarding the practical phases of drainage will be made available to those in attendance. The organization and financing of drainage districts, the surveying of drainage areas, the design of systems, and improved methods of construction are among the subjects to be considered.

The meeting will be in charge of the department of Civil Engineering, College of Engineering, Urbana, Illinois.

VALUE OF A DOLLAR SPENT IN CALIFORNIA.

[illegible] ner in which the 'Buy-at-Home' cam[illegible] been conducted in California," said Mr. Thorburn, "the Retail Mer[illegible] Association has been trying to put to a practical test the actual purchasing power of a single dollar, and its debt-paying capacity, when kept at home and used in trade chan[illegible] earned. This compared with a similar dollar sent to Chicago for a mail-order, whence the dollar could never return to the town from which it was sent after being first earned.

"A dollar bill was labeled by the Merchants' Association, the label requesting all receivers to spend it for nothing except home-grown or home-made goods at some local store; each tradesman receiving it to put his own name, amount of purchase and the date of receipt, on the label,—the man who received it on the 30th day to send it back to headquarters of the Association which would give out a second dollar in its place.

"At the end of the thirty days it was found that sixty-eight merchants in that small city had made as many sales in which this dollar has been used as payment, or part payment, and of these sixty-eight trade beneficiaries two of them were the owners of the local semi-weekly newspapers, each of which in turn received it at different times during the month, for the payment of a total of seven subscriptions."

The Home Industry League is now proposing that each member of the California Press Association start a similar dollar bill circulation campaign in the communities where each of the editors lives, as a practical way of educating their local townspeople into appreciating the value to each of them in spending their money in their own towns, as well as subscribing for the local newspapers who are spending so much of their hard-earned cash in teaching their fellow-citizens the value of "Buying-at-Home."

HOW DO YOU OIL YOUR ROAD ROLLER?

The ordinary way of oiling the three-wheel type of road rollers commonly used [illegible] is to apply [illegible] sack over the surface of the wheels or rollers, says M. L. Patzig in the Con[illegible] but this is dangerous work; it is dangerous while the wheel is moving, and the man's safety depends [illegible]

Place an ordinary cocoanut doormat over each of the rollers, holding them in place by a pair of wires fastened to [illegible] line of the axles.

My this method only a minimum quantity of oil is used, the time of one man is dispensed with, and all danger eliminated.

The foreman and [illegible] of the William Horrabin Company, Iowa City, Iowa, are credited with having conceived this apparently very practical idea.—The Road Maker.

BILL TO PROVIDE FOR COUNTY ENGINEERS.

A system of county engineers for the entire State, the men to be selected from a list approved by the State Engineer, is advocated in a bill introduced into the Assembly by Edwards of San Joaquin county. At the same time, Assemblyman D. R. Hayes introduced a measure calling for the road powers to remain almost exclusively with the Supervisors. .

Under the plan proposed by Edwards, the Supervisors would still select the county engineer, but would be compelled to choose from a list of eligibles furnished by the State Engineer, who is given the power to conduct examinations to select these men, if necessary to use that method of determining their fitness.

The man selected by the Board of Supervisors need not be a resident of the county which selects him. This clause was included in the interests of efficiency. The man appointed holds office four years, but may be discharged for misconduct, inefficiency or neglect of duty.

It is provided, however, that he may only be discharged by a commission to hear the evidence. This commission shall consist of a Superior Judge in the county involved, the chairman of the Board of Supervisors of that county and a third expert to be named by the State Engineer.

The bill provides that the county engineer shall have full direction and control of all highway construction, maintenance and improvement within the county which he serves. He shall also look after and repair all roads and bridges under the jurisdiction of the county.

ENGINEER PLANS BIG RIVER DAMS

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Plans for construction of three dams in Colorado river near the mouth of Diamond canyon, to furnish cheap electric power for railroad, mining and other industrial work in Arizona, Nevada and Utah have been completed, according to word from Arizona points. J. B. Girand, local engineer, who orignated the plan, states that New York construction engineers are now investigating the proposition, by which it is stated 1,000,000 horsepower can be developed.

At Diamond canyon the Colorado is very narrow, flowing between walls 1500 feet high.

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI WILL AID TO BRING TOGETHER JOB AND MAN.

Recently the doors of the new employment bureau on the University of California campus were thrown open to help the students who will complete their college courses in May. The bureau is a new department in the offices of the California Alumni Association, and was created by the alumni organization to aid the Seniors in securing employment as soon as they graduate. The opening of the bureau has come after a year's investigation by which it was established that employers throughout the state would welcome an agency which would systematically place at their disposal each year's output of men and women from the University.

Chemists, horticulturists, metallurgists, accountants, lawyers, salesmen, dietitians, surveyors, draftsmen, architects, sanitarians, social service workers, miners, and a hundred other kind of workers will be listed and classified for the convenience of the inquiring employer. The facts and figures relating to the prospective employees, all of whom have spent four years in the University, will be open for the employer's reference.

The inquiry which the Alumni Association conducted before starting the Bureau proved how difficult it is for the average employer to find suitably trained men and women. While a large number of men and women especially fitted to make a start in business go forth each year from the University, heretofore there has been no intelligent method by which an employer might find the particular individual needed.

The first month will be occupied with registering Seniors eligible for employment June 1. When the registration is complete, a statement will be issued to employers, through the newspapers and through various chambers of commerce and other channels. This statement, which will be made in the latter part of March, will give a general idea as to the vocational preparation and fitness of the 1917 crop of University-trained men and women.

WYBRO-BOARD, A NEW GENERAL UTILITY PANEL.

White Bros. are now marketing a new product called Wybro-Board, which will prove of great benefit and economy in all lines of business, where a thin, strong wood is required.

This new board is made of three thickness of Oregon pine, the inner-ply running crosswise, and is adapted to a great variety of uses on account of its strength, durability, economy and lightness, and is especially effective in the manufacture of drawer bottoms, boxes, cases, show cards, photographic and advertising panels, factory trays, mounting boards, mirror backs, trunk bodies, bulletin boards, transfer files, cores for making panels, parcel hampers, refreshment boxes, novelties, patterns, chair backs for upholstered furniture, cheaper wall boards, wainscoting, especially where it is to be painted or enameled over and in every case where a strong light wood is desired.

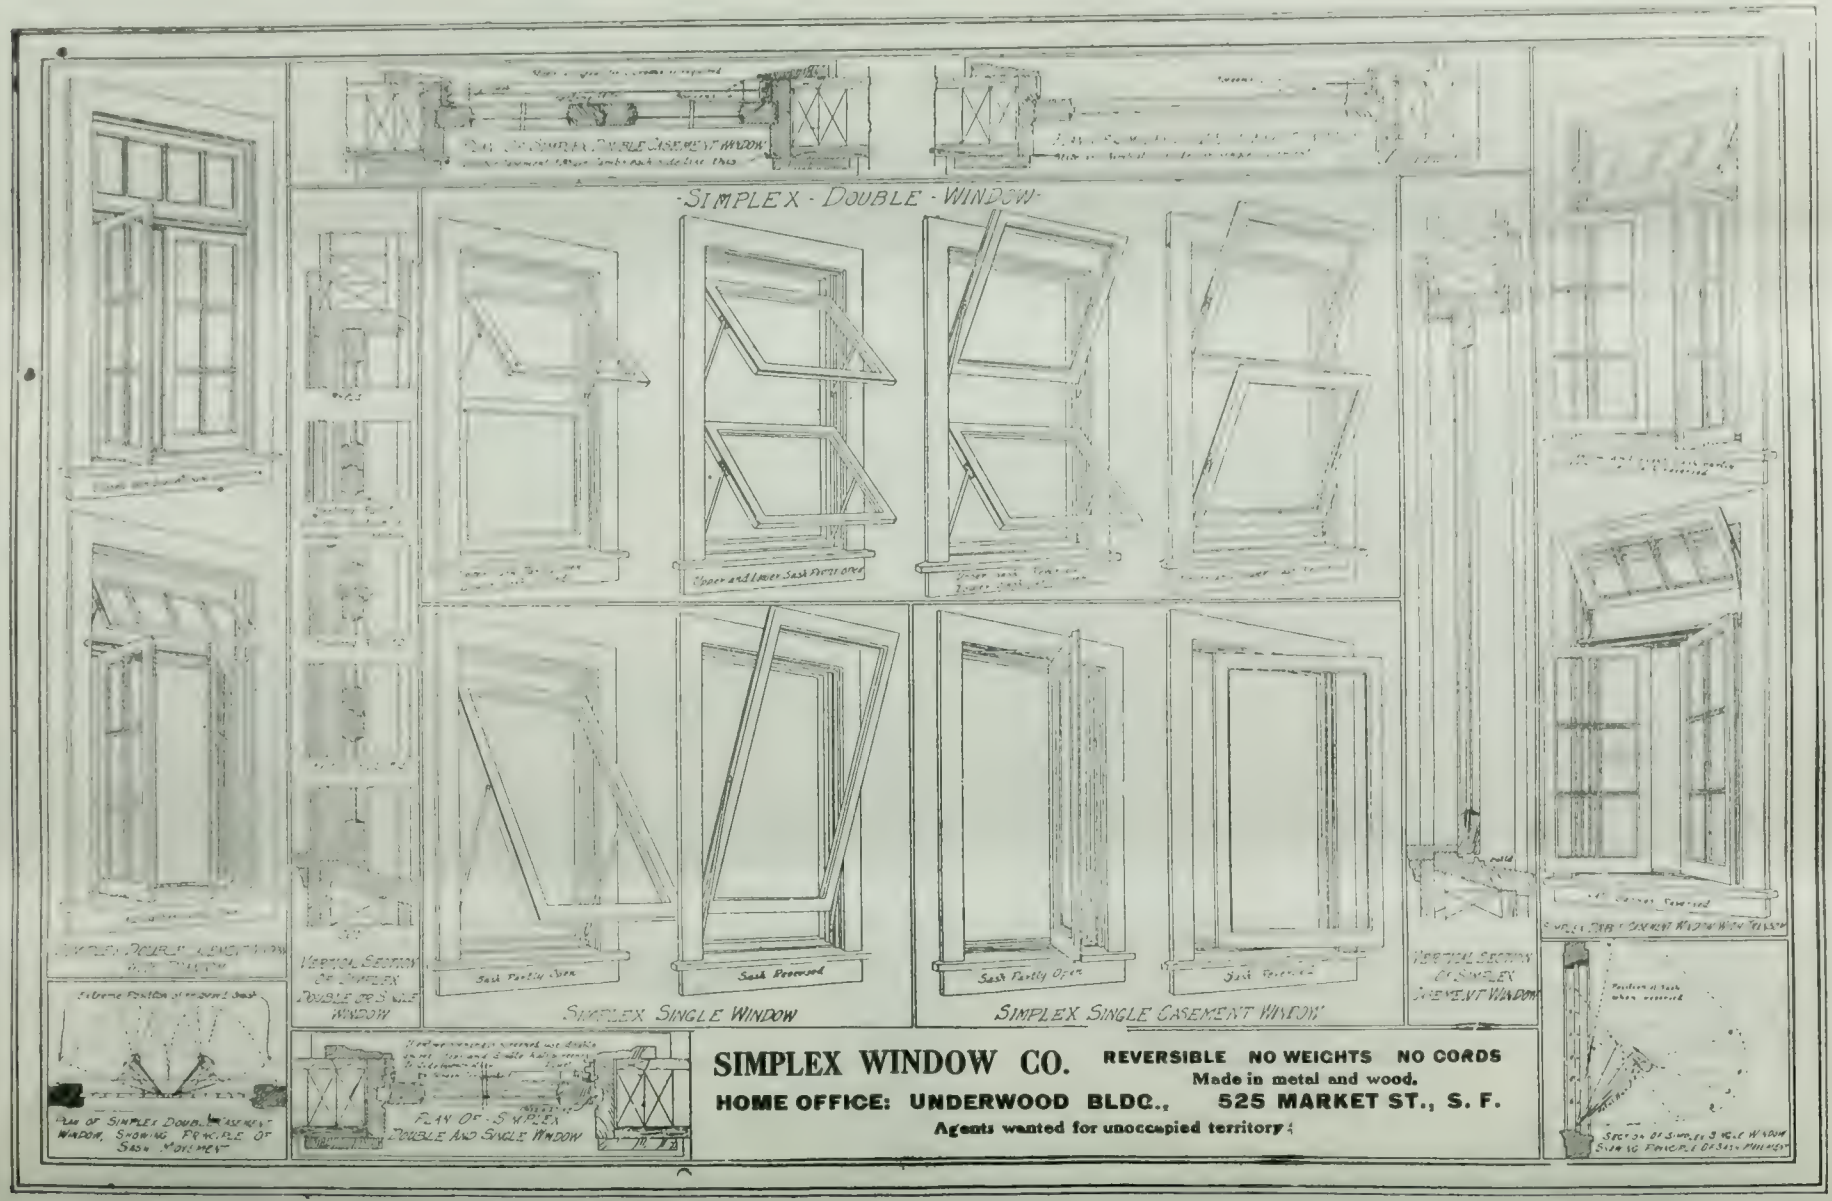
These panels are rough and must be sanded to be used as wall panels or wainscoting. The charge for sanding is ½c per square foot. Sizes carried in stock range from 24"x60", ¼ inch to 36" x48", 5-16, all 3 ply.

ENGINEER IS MAN OF THE FUTURE IN FRANCE.

PARIS [illegible] observers declare that the engineer is the man of the future in France. It is not a mere supposition based upon the eventual reconstruction, but seems rather to be a deduction from the new spirit of the Frenchman.

In the words of a professor of the Central Polytechnic school, France "trained its students before the war as if they should all enter the institute," and it is generally recognized as a fact that, in her hour of need, France felt the lack among her scientists of men able to give practical application to their discoveries.

France has had great engineers—a few of them—at all epochs. French engineers pierced the Isthmus of Suez, dredged the South American ports, built the seaports of the Levant, started the Panama canal, gave the first impetus to the automobile industry and aviation; yet in its industrial enterprises before the war France employed an average of only one engineer for every 100 workmen, where Germany employed four. It is to this situation that many attribute the fact that France was losing its lead in the automobile industry and had already been passed in aviation by Germany when the war broke out.



UNBREAKABLE WINDOW GLASS INVENTED.

A new glass, transparent, tough and strong, which a 22-caliber bullet cannot penetrate and a brick cannot shatter, has been invented, according to Popular Science Monthly. The secret of its strength is said to be a sheet of white, transparent celluloid, twenty one-thousandths of an inch thick, placed between two pieces of glass. The glass and celluloid are welded together under high temperature and tremendous pressure, the resula being a solid sheet possessing the transparency of the best plate glass and the strength of a sheet of metal.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—An examination for assistant examiner of the State Civil Service Commission will be held in this city on March 17th. Similar examinations will be held in San Francisco and Los Angeles at the same time. Candidates are requested to have had at least two years' training in a university or college, and one year's experience or more in direct dealing with men employed in skilled trades and allied occupations. The entrance salary is $1,500 a year. This examination is open to all citizens between the ages of 21 and 60.

LODI, Cal.—Mrs. Estrella Brewer and Miss Agnes V. Solkmore have purchased a large lot in Olive Court and will erect thereon a tenement house as in investment.

LAKEVIEW, Ore. — The railroad committee is in receipt of a letter from Rebert E. Strahorn, Railroad buildier of Portland, Ore., in which he states that a map will soon be mailed showing the exact location of all the buildings that are to be located on the proposed railroad property in Lakeview. The letter states that these include a round house, warehouse, freight and passenger depots, shops and other buildings. From this it would appear that Lakeview is to be one quite a division point on the proposed railroad. This line is being financed in part by cities and counties in Oregon affected by the proposed line.

ANOTHER FOREIGN BRANCH BANK FOR HARBIN.

MANCHURIA, China. The Banque d'Industriele de l'Indo-Chine has purchased a plot of land in the Pristan, or business district, of Harbin, and is erecting a building thereon. It is understood that when the building is finished, probably in the spring of 1917, the bank will open a branch here of its Tientsin house, to take charge of the growing exchange business. This will be the fourth foreign bank established here, besides the Russo-Asiatic Bank and theHarbin Second Mutual Credit Society. The other three now established are the Hongkong & Shanghai Banking Corporation, the Yokohama Specie Bank, and the Bank of Chosen (Japanese). The International Banking Corporation has been also investigating the desirability of establishing a branch in Harbin to take care of American trade, which has greatly increased since the beginning of war.

The property of the Banque d'Industriele de l'Indo-Chine is one of the most desirable business locations of the town, and the leasehold of the land is said to have cost 60,000 rubles ($30,900 to the normal exchange rate of $0.515 to the ruble).

DECIDED ACTION NEEDED ON THE FOOD QUESTION.

Women and girls in New York fighting for food like wild animals may be dismissed by some as a disorderly riot.

But it is more a revolution on a small scale.

This country is patient, but her patience is nearly exhausted. Investigations galore are under way, but they lead nowhere in particular. If another investigation is mentioned or started, the whole country will shriek from outraged nerves.

If Congress has power to fix prices at which food shall be sold, that power certainly should be exerted immediately.

And if such constitutional authority be lacking, it should be given with as little delay as possible.

But as the Constitution stands, it would seem that Congress has as much power to regulate prices, for a great public need, as to impose bone-dryness on States which have refused to enact anything of the sort and, on the contrary, have expressly authorized the importation of alcoholic liquors for personal use.

At all events, let Congress do whatever it can, and to the best of its authority and ability, to break up greedy and outrageous combinations and speculative hoarding of foods that millions of people sorely need.

Of what avail is it that the national banks last year earned a bigger profit than ever before in their history; that farmers are receiving record prices; that manufacturers and producers are hard put to estimate their earnings, if workingmen and women and children of this country are in sore distress?

Every man has a right to make money.

But above that stands the right of every man, woman and child to a fair living.

Between the two, the right to subsistence rules supreme. No man nor set of men, equitably or morally can demand the privilege of making increased profits if that mean the semi-starvation of fellow-creatures.

But there are such heartless wretches, which unfortunate fact makes it a duty of the Government to compel by law, to all possible extent, what disregard for humanity does not induce.—Sacramento Bee.

THE AUTO IN CALIFORNIA BUSINESS CIRCLES.

The unsuspectedly great importance of the automobile in the development of the industries of the State of California will be described in song, in dance, in moving-picture, and in short [illegible] at the meeting of the Home Industry League of California, to be held in the large ballroom of the Palace Hotel on Thursday, March 1st at 12 [illegible].

The short talks will be given by City Engineer M. M. O'Shaughnessy, H. O. Lowell, of the Desmond Park Service Co.; and Carl H. Brockhagen, President of the San Francisco Ad Club.

The films to be shown include:

"The Race to Bear Valley."

"The Winning of the Desmond Trophy."

"The H-3 Submarine Ashore at Eureka."

The songs, to be illustrated by new dances, will be rendered by the "Techau Tavern Sextet" of young lady entertainers.

The meeting being of a special character it is expected that some 400 businessmen will be in attendance.

PRELIMINARY FIGURES ON 1916 WOOD PULP PRODUCTION.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Returns from 160 wood-pudp mills throughout the the country, received in connection with the census of pulp-wood consumption and wood-pulp production being made by the Forest Service in co-operation with the Newsprint Manufacturers' Association, show that the reporting mills used in 1916 3,419,000 cords of wood and had an output of approximately 2,229,000 tons of pulp. It is expected that by the middle of March reports from practically all of the mills in the country operating in 1916 will have been received. Complete figures are to be made public as soon as the remaining mills have been heard from.

Of the total production of wood pulp thus far reported 973,329 tons was made by the mechanical process, 892,110 tons by the sulphite process, 314,085 by the soda process, and 49,053 by the sulphate process.

No figures on pulp-wood and wood-pulp consumption have been compiled by the Forest Service since 1911, and it is expected that the present census will reveal a number of changes both as to amount and kinds of wood used. It is stated that the higher stumpage values and the decreasing supplies of spruce and hemlock, as well as improved methods of manufacture, have caused pulp makers to use increasing [illegible] of other woods.

The final report of the census by the Forest Service will show by States the number of cords of each kind of wood used in each of the four processes of [illegible] as well as the average [illegible] of wood in the rough peeled or rossed stage. Figures showing the [illegible] each kind of wood [illegible] will be given.

Items of Interest.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—An amendment to the Army bill appropriating $300,000 for a shop-room at Benicia arsenal was introduced recently by Senator Works.

SUSANVILLE, Lassen Co., Cal.—The Lassen County Board of Supervisors has accepted the new $80,000 Court House. Construction work has been under way on the building for a year and a half.

It is estimated four months will expire before the installation of furniture will be completed.

The furniture contracts have not yet been awarded.

COLUSA, Cal.—The plans for the new $85,000 grammar school building are now in the hands of the Board of School Trustees. Architect H. H. Weeks, who designed the building, will be called from San Francisca to go over the plans in detail.

NAPA, Cal.—Postmaster Waldon has received notice from Washington that the Post Office will remain on its present location. However, it will be remodeled, equipped with new fixtures and improved generally.

ROSEVILLE, Placer Co., Cal.—The Pacific Fruit Express Company will in the near future expend $90,000 in the erection of car shops here, to replace those standing, and 352 refrigerator cars will be built in Roseville when the buildings are completed. So announced by J. H. McClymonds, construction engineer for the company, who was here making preliminary surveys.

Almost two miles of additional repair tracks will be laid.

Three hundred men will be employed in the erection of the new buildings, and after the shops are completed they will furnish permanent employment for 260 men, or sixty men more than are now employed. The refrigerator cars will cost $2,500 apiece.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Actual construction work on Sacramento County's $1,750,000 road system will be started by April, according to County Highway Engineer R. M. Morton. The survey crews are nearly finished with their work and have only to work twenty-five and one-quarter miles more of highway. All of the 125 miles of roads will then be surveyed..

Sixty miles of highway will be completed by November, 1917, and all of the bridges will be built, so that travel next Winter will not be hindered.

WILLOWS, Cal.—It is estimated it will cost Glenn and Colusa Counties $266,000 to construct the joint county bridge proposed between the two counties over the Sacramento River at Princeton. The bridge as planned is to cross the Sacramento River at a point 1200 feet south of the present ferry.

SUSANVILLE, Lassen Co., Cal.—Following closely the visit of business men interested in these mill operations, articles of incorporation were perfected which insures Honey Lake Valley a new flour mill.

The two old mills have been abandoned and all milling grain is shipped to Stockton, Reno, or Salt Lake City, which make flour prices high.

The new mill will be erected near the Southern Pacific station at Susanville. The promoters of the new company are men with means.

The shareholders are: A. E. DeForest, G. E. DeForest, Charles Lawson, J. S. Barritte, John T. Long, F. C. Fogin and Ned T. Hooker.

O. D. Matthews and M. R. Doty, of the club and members of the City Council, are assisting the firm to secure a suitable location for the plant.

OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUNG MEDICAL MEN.

Government Filling Vacancies in Public Health Service.

According to a statement just issued by Surgeon General Rupert Blue, young medical men between the ages of 23 and 32 will be given an opportunity each month to demonstrate their fitness for admission to the grade of Assistant Surgeon in the U. S. Public Health Service. There are several vacancies in the governement's mobile sanitary corps, which is now in the 119th year of its existence, but in order to be recommended to the President for commission, a physical and professional examination must first be passed. As the tenure of office is permanent and the Public Health officers are ordered to duty in all parts of the world, they are required to certify that they believe themselves free from any ailment which would disqualify them for service in any climate. Boards will be convened at Washington, Boston, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville, New Orleans and San Francisco, but permission to take the examination must first be obtained from the Surgeon General. The examination is searching and includes, in addition to the various branches of medicine, surgery and hygiene, the subjects of the preliminary education, history, literature and the natural sciences. The commissions will be issued as Assistant Surgeon and after four years of service, the young officers are entitled to examination for promotion to the grade of Passed Assistant Surgeon, and after twelve years of service to another examination for promotion to the grade of Surgeon. The annual salaries are: Assistant Surgeon, $2000; Passed Assistant Surgeon, $2400; Surgeon, $3000; Senior Surgeon, $3500; Assistant Surgeon General, $4000. When the Government does not provide quarters, commutation at the rate of $30, $40, and $50 a month according to grade is allowed. All grades receive longevity pay, that is 10% in addition to the regular salary for every five years until the maximum of 40% is reached. When officers travel on official duties they are reimbursed their actual travel-expenses.

LABORATORY DETECTION OF CRIME TO BE A SUMMER SESSION COURSE.

Would-be Sherlock Holmeses are to be aided by the University of California. How science can aid in the detection of criminals is to be taught in the Summer Session.

Co-operating with the Berkeley Municipal School for Police Officers, Dean Walter Morris Hart has arranged for Summer Session course, from June 25 to August 4, on "Field and Laboratory Methods for Criminal Investigation." It will be given by Edward Oscar Heinrich of Tacoma, Washington, trained as a chemist at the University of California, who since then has achieved reputation as an expert examiner of question documents and as an authority in poisoning cases.

Ten members of the San Francisco detective and police staffs are to be detailed to attend the Summer Session and to take this course. The Berkeley policemen will join the class and the University expects representatives of police departments from all over the Pacific Coast, as well as attorneys who specialize in criminal law, social workers, bank officials and others interested in ways of detecting forgery and students of criminology.

Photographic enlargements will be used to show how a forged signature may be distinguished from the genuine signature, by the differences between the free sweep of genuine handwriting and the copying of the forger, and study of light and shade in signatures, the frequency with which the pen is lifted, the character and position of shadings, and other elements of handwriting which betray the forger. Heinrich will tell, also, how the age of a document or a signature may be determined, how the wretches who write slanderous anonymous letters may be unveiled, how the writer of an unsigned typewritten document may be detected, and how banks may guard themselves against check-raising, alterations and interlineations of legal documents, and the like.

A grisly chapter of the course will be a discussion of the study of blood stains as a means of finding out the guilty.

VALUE OF SLASH PINE LITTLE KNOWN.

A comparatively little known but valuable tree most often called slash pine is fast replacing longleaf pine in many sections of the south, says the Forest Service. In some respects this tree is considered a better tree than longleaf. Its growth, according to the foresters, is more rapid and its yield of turpentine larger, while the wood is said to be the heaviest, hardest, and strongest coniferous wood grown in the country.

The term, "slash pine," it is explained, is popularly applied to several southern pines, notably the loblolly, with which the true slash pine is often confused because of its close resembalance. The slash pine is also sometimes called "Cuban," "swamp," or "she" pine.

The chief causes for the rapid spread of the tree are its frequent and abundant seed production, very rapid growth, ability to endure the shade of other trees, and its capacity to adapt itself to a wide range of environment. The fact that it can withstand the combination of forest fires and razor-back hogs is also considered of importance by the foresters, who say that the tree is destined to play an important part in the future of the cut-over lands of the South. As an example of the high money returns obtained by turpentining the tree, it is stated that in one instance in South Carolina a twenty-year-old stand of slash pine averaged 520 trees per acre, each of which had one cup. The turpentine operator paid the owner ten cents a cup, or a total of $52 per acre, for the privilege of tapping the trees.

After a rest of from three to five years the trees should be in good condition for back-cupping and should produce even larger financial returns. By using the improved methods of turpentining advocated by the Forest Service, the foresters say that such a stand could be turpentined for a longer period of years instead of the three or four years under the crude methods now generally employed.

It is pointed out that the yellow pine lands of the South furnish by far the bulk of the naval stores of the world and that the supply is steadily decreas-ing as these lands are denuded of their timber and no provision made for their restocking. Because such high returns are possible from slash pine, the experts believe that the tree should be encouraged to come in on the cut-over land of the South with a view to perpetuating the naval stores industry.

FREE PLANS FOR FARM BUILDINGS OBTAINED FROM THE UNIVERSITY.

Hereafter any farmer who has farm buildings to build can obtain typical plans of such structures from the University of California, without cost.

Through this free distribution of typical plans for farm structures, the farmers of California will be able to make use of the best modern ideas of architects, engineers, and agricultural experts as to how to design farm structures so as to get the best possible returns in the way of service, sanitation, and satisfaction.

For a year and a half the problem of preparing plans for farm structures especially suitable to California conditions has engaged the attention of the Division of Agricultural Engineering of the College of Agriculture. Now plans are ready for free distribution for dairy, hay, and utility barns; milk-houses, hog-houses, and chicken-houses; silos, septic tanks, feeding appliances, and various other farm structures.

Any farmer who is planning any building work on his farm should write to the Agricultural Extension Division, at Berkeley, and ask for a complete list of available plans and how he can borrow, them.

The importance to the prosperity of California of this very practical new activity of the University is shown by the fact that ten million dollars is spent every year by the farmers of California on farm structures, and yet extremely few California farmers have in the past had the advantage of architectural and egineering advice from experts in farm architecture and farm engineering.

The bridge over the Chanchan River is completed, and the distribution of materials will now be made direct from the Guayaquil & Quito Railway. Also several lime kilns have been erected.

About 4 miles of roadbed are graded on the Quito-Esmeraldas Line, in which four culverts and four tunnels are included. The work is being extended through Oyacoto Valley toward Cachaya and Tambillo, [illegible] per cent not being exceeded. More than 400 laborers are at work, and the number is to be increased to 1,000. A brief time only is necessary to grade the road to Quebrada de Chiche.

Arrangements are being made to divert all the locomotives on the Guayaquil-Quito Line, except two, from coal to oil-burning, owing to the difficulty of securing coal. A test has shown the great economy which will follow the change.

Owing to financial difficulties, the Ecuadorian Government has assumed control of the Manta-Portoviejo Line, and is now operating it.

FIRST NATIONAL FOREST ROAD UNDER FEDERAL AID ACT.

[illegible] the Federal Aid Road Act. This section is the only one in the law which provides for actual construction of roads by the Federal Government. Roads built under authority of this part of the law are designed primarily to promote economic development and to serve public convenience in localities where much of the land is in National Forests. The proposed road on which action is taken is in the Apache National Forest, Greenlee County, Arizona.

The preliminary estimate of the cost of construction of the 21 miles of road to be surveyed is $342,500. Greenlee County proposes to hold a bond election to raise the necessary funds to contribute fifty per cent of this amount. An additional 29 miles of road in Apache County will be necessary to complete the project, and, according to the preliminary estimate, will bring the total cost to $420,000.

Approval of the plans for the survey was based upon the industrial resources which will be opened up and also upon the offer of one-half cooperation by the county. The construction of the road will make possible a north-and-south trunk-line through a region now inaccessible and will connect with existing east-and-west State highways. In addition it will, it is stated, make possible the sale of large bodies of timber for the use of copper mines in southern Arizona, and will afford means of travel for settlers besides cheapening the cost of protecting and administering the National Forest. The development of water power in the region will be assisted, and a beautiful recreation area will be opened up for tourist travel and for the residents of the desert cities during the summer months

In each case, under the terms of the law, the road funds must be derived partly from local sources, and the amount expendable in any county by the Government is limited to ten per cent of the estimated value of the timber and forage resources of the National Forests in that county.

Several other projects for which cooperation has been offered are pending for roads in California, Montana, and Idaho. Where two projects have equal claim for consideration, the decision will, it is stated, be made in favor of the one for whch the best offer of cooperation is made.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE AGAIN GOES ASTRAY.

The poor old Chicago Tribune has a hard time understanding California affairs. Woefully it regards this State as the blacksheep of the Union.

So severely has California ruffled its serenity that when she dared cast her vote for Wilson, The Tribune called California "the boob State."

Its latest outburst is occasioned by the declaration of the Los Angeles Times that bills have been introduced in the present Legislature calling for the appointment of twenty-seven Commissions, whose cost would be $2,000,000 a year.

As Governor Johnson has pointed out in a statement published in last evening's Bee, neither the State nor his administration is in any way responsible for the mere introduction of bills in the Legislature, which can be trusted to weed out whatever may be found without merit or needless.

The rules of all Legislatures are burdened with a large number of worthless or extravagant measures, and the same is true of Congress. California is simply no exception in this respect.

It is unnecessary to repeat the Tribune's caustic comments, save to point out that anyone desiring correct information about California legislative affairs never turns to the Los Angeles Times to secure it.

The Chicago journal's ignorance is so deep that any of its comments founded upon it are not worth reading, let alone answering.

REDUCING HIGH COST OF LIVING HELPED BY HOME INDUSTRY LEAGUE BULLETIN.

With everyone in the State of California vitally effective by the soaring "High Cost of Living" these days, the Home Industry League of California is out with a "Bulletin" telling the people of the State how each can materially reduce the living cost of his or her respective family, and, at the same time, add a larger variety to the household larder

Stated in a single sentence, the Home Industry League invites the attention of housewives to the fact that high-priced potatoes and onions and beans—the retail prices of which, during the past month, has placed these commodities in the "millionaire's menu" only—can be replaced, cheaply and pleasantly, bp the purchase of "RICE—California rice."

Speaking of the "H. C. L." situation today, Executive Secretary Charles R. Thorburn, of the Home Industry League,, stated to your special correspondent here that: "Housewives will be delighted to learn that the rice crop in California during the year just closed has reached almost double the crop of 1915, itself a fine output. More than 250 MILLIONS of pounds of rice have been harvested in the State during the last twelve months.

"This enormus crop means not alone a low price to the housewife for rice at this time, but it means that the rice dealers have exerted themselves to make their product better known to the women of the State. As a result, the dealers are getting up many new suggestions by the use of which California rice can be utilized on the tables of the State in many new ways, so that some families have already substituted various rice dishes for their breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners in place of potatoes, onions and beans which have been so common up to this time."

Although rice-growing is a NEW industry in California, it having been started on a large scale less than four years ago, there were 50,000 acres under cultivation in 1916, with every prospect of there being 100,000 rice-producing acreage in 1917

My talking with various wholesale dealers I learn that California rice is of what they term the "short kernel" variety, yet has all the nutritive value of the "long kernel" rice hitherto imported from China, Java, Siam and India. The local product not being highly "polished," like the Oriental kind, is, in the opinion of many disinterested experts, an added advantage to the housewife who uses the California variety, as the "polishing" causes the loss of much of the nutritive value of any rice, besides exposing the user of the "highly polished" rice to contracting "berri berri" and other diseases characteristic of people who live exclusively on "highly polished" rice.

It would look as though every workingman at least would realize that he would be helping himself to cut down living costs, as well as keeping his living-money at home, were he to insist on the grocer's giving his family a "RICE—grown-in-California."

UNIVERSITY FACULTY SEEKS TO AID INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING AND GOOD-WILL.

To help find out just what Uncle Sam's neighbors really think of him, a "Committee on International Relations" has been created by the Academic Senate of the University of California. This endeavor to promote international understanding and good will is announced in the "University Record" in the last number of the "University Chronicle," the official quarterly issued by the University of California.

That it is the duty of American universities to place increased emphasis on teaching and research relating to international and racial problems is declared by the Academic Senate.

"At this time of world upheavel," reported the faculty committee, "no problem overshadows in importance that concerning the relations of this country with its neighbors. A university is better organized than any other institution for assembling, compending, and organizing the knowledge required in the solution of international problems."

Holding that California has special responsibilities and opportunities for understanding the international problems of the Pacific area, the Academic Senate has recommended the establishing of a chair primarily for research in international relations, appointments to be for limited periods only, and to go to men of proved ability to do constructive work on international problems. Pending the hoped-for establishment of this new professorship, a faculty seminar, consisting of Professors David P. Barrows, Edward Elliott, Lincoln Hutchinson, Charles A. Kofoid, A. L. Kroeber, J. C. Merriam, and George M. Stratton, has taken up the problem of finding out what popular opinion really is in Japan as to the relation of Japan to the United States, the question of growth of population and industrial change in Japan, Japan's relation to the problem of Japanese expansion, the status of Japanese nationalistic ideas, and the legislation of Pacific-Ocean countries in its relation to international problems.

Other features of this issue of the University of California Chronicle are a paper on "Science as a Vehicle of Education" in which Professor T. Brailsford Robertson (who recently discovered tethelin) discusses the danger of undue specialization in scientific education and the need of rescuing science as one of the humanities, and not merely as vocational training; an essay on Josiah Royce, who from a boy in a mining camp—he was born in Grass Valley—rose to be one of the most distinguished of American philosophers (in this paper Dr. J. Lowenberg discusses Royce as "interpreter of American problems."); the "President's Address" delivered at the last annual meeting of the Philological Association of the Pacific Coast by Professor Walter Morris Hart, Dean of the Summer Session, on "A Vanishing [illegible]"; [illegible] Arthur W. Ryder of old Sanskrit fables, which, despite the fact they are two thousand years old, have a modernity and wit which attests the unchangingness of human nature as between different centuries and far distant continents.

"WHO AM I?"

I am stronger than the combined Hague Conference and Peace Meetings of the whole world.

I save more lives than all the Doctors of the world.

I am more vital than medicine and surgery.

I help everybody—I find my friends among the rich and the poor, the young and the old—the strong and the weak.

I save the lives of thousands upon thousands of wage-earners every year.

I am omnipotent—saving arms, limbs, eyes, bodies—the lives of fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, relatives and friends.

I am omnipresent—in the home, in the mill, in the factory, on the street, on the railroad, on the sea, in the air.

I prevent mental worries and physical pains.

I bring health, joy and happiness to the lives of all.

I am a panacea for the majority of all human miseries and troubles.

I bring smiles and happiness wherever I go.

I augment your Bank Account, for I am a "money saver."

I add years to the lives of hundreds of thousands.

I make life really worth living.

I am constructive, not destructive.

I am a co-partner of Good Judgment and Common Sense.

I am a "Joy Dispenser," a "Life Saver" and a "Good Fellow well met."

I AM "SAFETY FIRST."

OROVILLE, Butte Co., Cal.—A party of surveyors employed by the Great Western Power Company have left for Bloomer Mar preparatory to making a survey of a canal for the projected $6,000,000 Feather River power plant to be erected two and a half miles from this city.

Besides making surveys for the canal, which will convey water to the power plant, the surveyors will make surveys for a dam to be built across the North Fork of the Feather River below its junction with the Middle Fork. This dam will impound the water to supply the canal.

The surveying party, is headed by L. N. Jones. Most of the surveyors are from San Francisco.

Following is the personnel of the party: L. N. Jones, P. W. Lytle, A. A. Kramm, R. W. Jackson, T. W. Flannigan, C. W. Fernstrom, J. M. Harden, L. David, B. R. Dyer, C. C. Story, M. P. McCarthy, O G. Frisholz and A. O. Know.

ROSEVILLE, Placer Co., Cal.—The Pacific Fruit Express Company has started a large force of men to work on the new car shops that are to be built here for the purpose of building refrigerator cars for that company.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—At the regular meeting of the City Council here a petition for a building permit was presented by Oscar Peyton, local agent of the Union Oil Company. The petition requested permission to erect on Lots 13 and 14 of Block 17 of Second Railroad Addition to this city, a warehouse, barn, and three steel storage tanks twelve feet in diameter. The petition was referred to the Fire Committee until the next meeting of the Council.

NEWCASTLE, Placer Co., Cal.—Nearly $1000 for the building of a parsonage for the Methodist Episcopal Church was subscribed at a meeting of the members of the congregation and their friends. The plans discussed call for the building of a residence costing $3000. A canvass for subscriptions will be made at once.

PLACERVILLE, El Dorado Co., Cal.—R. A. Howard, manager of the Producers' Fruit Company, announces the capacity of the local warehouse will be doubled as a result of increased business. The entire plant will be remodeled. Plans are being worked out.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—A new city hall is to be constructed at Worden, twelve miles south of this city by D. F. Daugherty, who now has the material on the ground. The new hall is to be 80 by 24 feet with a second story, which will be used for social purposes.

OROVILLE, Butte Co., Cal. —In a joint bid with a Marysville concern, Vaughan Brothers of this city have been awarded one of the largest contracts for cement irrigation pipe ever placed in this district.

The order calls for 15,000 feet of concrete pipe, or nearly three miles of the pipe.

The contract was awarded by Hermann Berg of Sutter County, who owns a ranch near Yuba City. The work of making and shipping the pipe will begin immediately.

WOODLAND, Yolo Co., Cal.—With Woodland's new $5,000 municipal water system practically completed, the City Council is considering the renewal of the old hours of irrigation. Hampered by the lack of water and inadequate distribution, the Council passed an ordinance changing the irrigation hours. It is probable more time will be allowed soon.

Over three miles of 10 and 8 inch mains are being installed in a unit system of water supply. At no time can the city face a fire menace should a main artery water supply break, as the pumping station of the other units can take up the burden.

MARYSVILLE, Cal.—City Engineer W. M. Meek has submitted to the City Council an estimate on the proposed extension of the sanitary sewer system along Pine street from First to Thirteenth and along the alleyway between Swezy and Ramirez Streets from Tenth to Thirteenth, showing a probable cost of $3,000. The matter was continued to another meeting.

CHICO, Butte Co., Cal.—At a meeting of the Chico Business Men's Association Dennis Murphy, owner of a power site on Deer Creek, renewed discussion of a mnuicipal plant for Chico and came forward with an entirely new proposal.

According to Murphy, C. N. Burleson, his engineer, and J. Lindbloom, an Alaska capitalist, will appear before the City Trustees in the near future with a proposal for the formation of a consolidated lighting district to include Chico and all its suburbs.

Lindbloom proposes to finance the proposition, building the plant, ditches and transmission lines, in return for a twenty-five year contract for lighting Chico and suburbs. At the end of that time he will agree to turn it over to the city.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The $300,000 appropriation bill for the construction of buildings to replace the exhibit buildings destroyed at the State Fair Grounds last September, has been given a favorable recommendation by the Assembly Agriculture Committee. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Lee Gebhart of Sacramento and its appropriation is provided for in the State budget.

The bill was referred, with its favorable report, to the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly.

DIXON, Solano Co., Cal.—If the plans of certain large and small land owners are realized 60,000 acres of land lying east and southeast of Dixon, some of which is in Yolo county, will be included in a drainage district.

Some of those showing an interest in the project are C. Archibald, of Tremont Township; Homer G. Brown, R. E. Stephens and W. G. Weynard, all of Dixon; J. C. Jennings, representing the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railroad; Arnestem, Baldwin, Page, Crocker, Heine and others of San Francisco.

WOODLAND, Yolo Co., Cal.—This city will have a $100,000 modern fireproof hotel if citizens can raise enough money by bond and stock subscription for the erection of a building of this character.

The plan calls for a four-story structure on a lot adjoining Armory Hall on Bush street.

The Board of Trade, the Farm and Town Club and other interests have endorsed the project.

FRESNO, Cal.—George Albert Smith, presndent of the International Irrigation Congress, was the guest of members of the committee seeking to promote the Pine Flat irrigation project. Smith went over the plan to impound the waters by a huge dam and make possible the irrigation of a million more acres of land. Smith declared the project feasible.

SACRAMENTO, Cal. — Kiernan & O'Brien, contractors, have filed suit in the Superior Court asking for $640 judgment and costs against the McGillivary Construction Company and the Capital National Bank. In the complaint they charge that the construction company paid $9,166.32 for work done on the bank building, but that for the extra work they refuse to pay $640, which they claim is due.

PLACERVILLE, El Dorado Co., Cal.—C. B. Bills, President, and N. M. Williamson, Treasurer, of the Pioneer Fruit Company, have selected a site in the Upper Town railroad yards for the company's Placerville fruit warehouse.

The structure will be of one-story frame construction. Worthy Marks has charge of the plans and specifications.

YREKA, Cal.—The garage building, owned by the Julian Estate, will be sold within a day or two to T. Jones & Co. of Hornbrook,who together with J. A. Durst of Yreka, will spend considerable money in remodeling that building.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Commissioner of Public Works Thomas Coulter expects to have the plans for the new school, to be erected in the block bounded by Seventeenth and Eighteenth,E and F streets, ready for the city board of education to approve Friday morning. The plans are now being checked over by Building Inspector Rohl.

The board of education has already opproved the floor plans of the building, which will be along similar lines to the William Land School.

Plans were prepared by Architects Shea & Lofquist of San Francisco.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—In furtherance of their plan to secure a new and modern picture house for upper K strret, members of the Upper K Street Improvement Club are planning for an excursion to San Francisco Monday for the purpose of calling on President Britton of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company. The club wishes to see if some arrangement cannot be made for the purchase of the 200 foot lot adjoining the P. G. & E. building on K street in this city. With this 20 foot strip added to the adjoining 80 foot lot which the T & D theatre now owns the theatre people will have ample ground for a picture house of the size they desire to erect.

CALIFORNIA'S REAL STATE FAIR.

California is to have a real State Fair.

The wonders which Minnesota worked are to be duplicated in this State.

A revivified, broadened State Fair that will serve California adequately in agriculture, education, manufactures and all the varied activities, is the vision which John M. Perry, President of the State Board of Agriculture, with the assistance of the Directors, will strive to write into actuality.

A permanent Building plan, beautification of the grounds, centering of improvements in agriculture, manufactures or trade, progress in education and fine arts, will be combined to effect a State Fair the fame of which will spread abroad.

The first steps toward that goal are being taken in the annual meeting of the Board of Directors now in session at Sacramento. With Perry and the directors leading the way the ultimate success depends upon the active assistance and co-operation of all sections of the State.

"California should be ashamed of its present State Fair," said Perry. "In its State University, its State Farm, in its Capitol buildings it has kept abreast of the times. In its State Fair it has lagged far behind much smaller and poorer states.

"A State Fair is not a sectional activity. Sacramento rightly possesses it as the Capital of the State and because of its accessibility, but it is bigger and broader than a mere Sacramento affair. It embraces the whole State, crystallizing agriculture, education, manufacturing and all the works of California into a compact, attractive mosaic whose fame should send the lure of California over the whole land.

"Minnesota, for instance, by its State Fair draws from every state of the Union. Farmers, manufacturers, educators, men and women in all walks of life travel far to attend it. Its telling story brings more settlers to Minnesota than would advertising posters strung across the whole country, or a thousand lecturers orating for a year.

"Advertisements and speakers allege; State Fairs prove and in this hard-headed age, only proof brings results.

"California should have such a State Fair, proof not only of her wonderful agricultural results, her cattle and livestock, her fruit trees, but proof of her educational advantages, opportunities for women's work, her healthfulness and the very joy of living in this wonderful State of ours.

"The State Fair should also be the School of Experience, besides which other methods of learning are ineffective. It should be a mart for the exchange of ideas by which farmers can keep abreast of each little improvement in their business, educators learn of systems that have proved their worth, women discuss problems interesting them, manufacturers keep abreast of progress, and every man be annually educated in the advance California and the world are making in every trade and art.

"A State Fair means concentrated knowledge and affords an education that a man could not obtain single-handed in a three month's investigation.

"But for such a State Fair there must be an adequate and artistic setting and equipment. Demands for space and facilities crowd the present quarters beyond their capacity. The State Fair must grow or die.

"The days of haphazard building are over. The Directors today have a well-considered permanent building plan, the carrying out of which will provide beautifully parked grounds and fireproof buildings that will provide the necessities and conveniences demanded by a modern State Fair.

"To that plan the Directors will adhere pushing forward each year as rapidly as possible. The buildings planned are a $300,000 pavilian to replace the one destroyed by fire; a $185,000 grand stand; a $75,000 educational building; a $45,000 addition to the machinery building; a $45,000 addition to the manufacturing building and a $100,000 coliseum.

"The $300,000 pavilion has been approved by the State Board of Control and will undoubtedly, pass this year. But, urgently needed also is the $62,500 appropriation for the purchase of some twenty acres of land, absolutely necessary for the space demands made upon the State Fair.

"The other buildings are needed immediately, but if they cannot be obtained this year, they should be asked at the next Legislature as part of the permanent building plan. All California should keep that plan in mind as the goal which should be reached.

"In minor matters the Directors are actively proceeding to raise the State Fair to a higher standard. The Board now has under consideration turfing the infield of the race-tract, with the possibility that important polo matches may be held there this Fall.

"With the assistance of experts employed in other departments of the State, a landscape plan is being drawn for the planting of trees and shrubs to make the fair grounds the beauty spot they should be.

"California is rich enough and the benefits great enough to secure the kind of State Fair she should have. When that day comes the California State Fair will take its place alongside the fairs of States like Minnesota. There in Minnesota every community actively backs the Fair for its advantages are known and appreciated.

"All California should likewise unite that this State may have a real State Fair. A proper State Fair is as important to the people of Siskiyou or Imperial as it is to those of Sacramento or Yolo. Its benefits are State-wide.

"California cannot be proud of its present State Fair. She should raise in her might to construct one whose fame would be world-wide."
